

Nation Honors Dead Heroes Who Fell While Planting Old Glory at Vera Cruz

Seventeen Victims, Laid Low by Mexican Fire, Are Tenderly Consigned to Final Resting Places.

THEIR NAMES ARE WRITTEN ON THE NATIONAL ROLL OF HONOR

President Wilson Journeys to New York and Delivers an Address Full of Feeling—Rebukes the Sneerers.

By Associated Press.

New York City, May 11.—To the men of the Navy who died in the occupation of Vera Cruz, the city, the state and the nation paid tribute today in a demonstration chiefly remarkable for its silence and solemnity. For four miles through the city streets the funeral procession passed, and behind it in an open carriage rode the President. He sat for the most part with head bared, though the sun beat down upon him and the mercury climbed to about 70. Perhaps a million persons saw the seventeen coffins borne from the Battery plaza in Lower Manhattan, to the Navy Yard in Brooklyn. The procession was nearly two hours in passing. The dead from Vera Cruz were landed on American soil today and city, state and nation paid their tribute. Two hours before the city was astir, seventeen flag-draped coffins were removed from the deck of the armored cruiser Montana and placed on caissons on the plaza in Battery Park. Few witnessed this ceremony, but thousands later lined the streets to watch the slow procession wind its way to the Navy Yard. Perhaps not since the Dewey parade has there been such a spontaneous demonstration.

President Wilson arrived in the city from Washington shortly before 7 o'clock, almost unobserved, and was taken immediately to the home of his close friend, Col. E. M. House, thence to the Battery to take a place in the procession.

Twenty-four picked mounted police led the way of the procession. Behind them were the combined bands of the draughts Texas and Wyoming, and behind the bands six hundred bluejackets from the ships. Next came the coffins in single file. At the side of each rode a policeman and at the corner of each caisson trudged a national guardsman. The Stars and Stripes alone covered the caskets. Behind the last caisson came the carriages bearing the President, the Secretary of the Navy, Senators, Congressmen and representatives of the city and state.

At the City Hall the procession halted while Mayor Mitchell placed upon a caisson a wreath of orchids, the city's tribute. From there the route lay north along Manhattan Bridge to Brooklyn and the Navy Yard. There the ceremonies were simple and comparatively brief. A hymn by the battleship bands, invocation by Chaplain W. G. Cassard of Annapolis, then President Wilson's address, prayer by Rabbi Stephen Wise and Father John P. Chidwick, Chaplain of the Main. . . .

Three volleys were fired by a detachment of Marines from the Texas and taps by a bugler concluded the program.

After the invocation, Secretary Daniels turned to the President and said: "Mr. President, I have the solemn honor to report to you as Commander-in Chief of the Navy of the United States, the names of fifteen sailors and four marines, who recently, at Vera Cruz, sealed with their blood their devotion to the flag of their country. All were in the prime of a vigorous young manhood. Of the nineteen who answered their last roll call, thirteen were twenty-two or under. I hand you, Sir, the names of these heroes, recorded high in the National Roll of Honor, that they may be preserved in the archives of our Republic. Their services will be held in lasting remembrance by a grateful people."

President Wilson had no formal address prepared for the ceremony. His reply to the Secretary was delivered with slow, impressiveness. He said: "Mr. Secretary, I know that the feelings which characterize all who stand about me are not feelings that can be expressed in eloquence or oratory. For my own part I have a mixture of feelings. The feeling that is uppermost is one of profound grief that these lads should have gone to their death. But yet, I feel a profound pride and envy that they should have been permitted to do their duty so nobly. I hope to God none of you will join the list, but if you will, you will join an immortal company. We have gone down to Mexico to serve mankind, if we can find the way. We don't want to fight the Mexicans, we want to serve them. A war of aggression is not a thing in which it is proud to die, but a war of service is a war in which it is a proud thing to die. War is only a sort of dramatical representation, symbolical of a thousand forms of duty. I never was in battle or under fire, but I fancy it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you, for when they shoot you they take your natural life, and when they sneer at you they wound your heart."

AFTER THE BATTLE IN VERA CRUZ; STREET SCENE REFLECTING WAR'S TOLL

A body of a Mexican sniper killed by Americans is being carried in a coffin through Vera Cruz by fellow Mexicans. United States marines are patrolling the street. The picture was taken shortly after the battle of occupation. The Mexicans are reported to have lost about 150 dead. The Americans lost nineteen dead.

BLOWS UP GUNBOAT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Rear Admiral Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet, reported today the abandoned Mexican Federal gunboat Morolos was yesterday boarded, set fire to and blown up by the Constitutionalists at Mazatlan.

NORDICA'S BODY WILL COME HOME

By Associated Press.

Batavia, Java, May 11.—The body of Madam Lillian Nordica, the American singer, who died here from pneumonia last night, is to be sent to the United States. It will leave here on May 16th.

OIL DROPS TO LOWER NOTCH

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 11.—Ten cents came off the price of the principal grades of crude oil today. The following prices were quoted: Pennsylvania Crude, 190; Mercer Black, 140; Newcastle, 140; Corning, 105; Cabell, 147. The reduction in Somerset was 5 cents to $1.05 a barrel.

MAYO LEAVES GREAT WEALTH

By Associated Press.

New York, May 11.—Col. John Calhoun Mayo, Democrat National Committeemen from Kentucky, died here this afternoon at a hotel, after an illness lasting since April 25th.

Col. Mayo was brought here for further treatment after a transfusion of blood at Cincinnati, O., had failed.

He was an associate of Clarence W. Watson, former United States Senator of West Virginia.

His wealth is estimated at $25,000,000 to $40,000,000.

BECKER TRIAL IS UNDER WAY

By Associated Press.

New York City, May 11.—A jury to try Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was again completed today. Frank A. Strock, a bookkeeper, and Frederick C. Barrett, a consulting engineer, were the men chosen today to take the places of the men excused Saturday.

It was just noon when the twelve jurors were selected and District Attorney Whitman immediately began his opening address and presentation of the state's case to the jury. His speech was chiefly a review of events leading up to and following the murder.

AMERICAN OFFICER ARRESTED UPON HIS RETURN FROM MEXICO CITY

Government Objects to Being Unnecessarily Placed, in Bad Light—Cannonading Heard at Tampico—Several Americans Refuse to Leave.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The navy department today called upon Rear Admiral Badger for a complete report concerning the unofficial statement that an American force had landed upon Lobos Island, eight miles from the Mexican shore between Vera Cruz and Tampico, and taken possession of the lighthouse.

ESCAPED AND WAS ARRESTED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—First Lieutenant Charles M. Maigne, of the U. S. army, retired, who went through the Mexican lines at Vera Cruz as a newspaper correspondent, was arrested today upon returning to Vera Cruz.

Advices of his arrest reached the war department from General Funston. Maigne's arrest was ordered from Washington on the ground that it would be difficult to explain satisfactorily the presence of an American officer within the lines of those who contest the rights of the United States on Mexican soil, even if he was a newspaper correspondent.

CANNON SHOTS AT TAMPICO

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Admiral Mayo has reported that 23 cannon shots were heard at Tampico last night. American Consul C. A. Miller and the Vice Consul are now aboard the Connecticut, he reported. Ten or fifteen Americans refused to leave the city.

LABOR LEADERS ARE NOT GUILTY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The contempt sentences imposed by the District Supreme court upon Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, were set aside today by the U. S. Supreme court for the second time as barred by the Statute of Limitations. Justice Holmes said the case turned upon the point that the contempt proceedings should have been started within three years from the date of the committing of the offences. He said that proceedings for contempt should be speedy and thus come within the purpose of the Statute of Limitations, which require prosecution within 3 years. Justice Pitney and Vandeventer dissented.

POUND FEDERALS IN STRONGHOLDS

Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and Mazatlan Attacked By Rebels.

General Villa's Forces Closing In On
Huerta's Armies at Every Possible
Point in North Mexico In Order to Hasten Recognition of the Constitutionalist Cause—Wants Embargo
On Arms Raised.

Chihuahua, Mexico, May 11.—Rebels began a general assault upon all federal strongholds in northern Mexico, including the cities of Saltillo and San Luis Potosi and the port of Mazatlan. Orders were issued by General Villa for the Saltillo and San Luis Potosi attacks following a conference with Carranza, during which the rebel leaders discussed the campaign and agreed that it is now necessary for the rebels to close in on Huerta's forces at every possible point and hasten recognition of the Constitutionalist cause in order to accomplish the lifting of the embargo on ammunition.

With 20,000 men, led by Manuel Chao, the deposed governor of Chihuahua, the Saltillo attack became general. Chao's command includes

2,000 cavalrymen, the most desperate in the rebel army, and to them has been given the honor of being the first in the fight.

Saltillo has not been abandoned by federalists nor was there any indication of Velasco giving up without a desperate fight. Additional reinforcements have reached the defenders and the city has been strongly fortified. Advice from Torreon said Villa is convinced he must fight long and desperately to take the city. Villa is directing the battle himself. Rebels have seized the waterworks plant in the outskirts of Saltillo, and Villa has established his headquarters there, so he can quickly cut off the water supply of the city, but says he will not do so because of the suffering it would entail among the people of the besieged city.

San Luis Potosi was again attacked by 8,000 rebels under General Torres. He has the city practically surrounded, according to official advice. Villa ordered Torres to begin the assault as a part of the general campaign of the rebels. A resumption of the rebel land attack upon Mazatlan also was ordered by General Villa and the city was being bombarded with 20 cannon, according to dispatches received here by rebel officials.

General Carranza announced that he would leave for the city of Durango to establish civil government in the state. Since the Arrieta brothers were pacified by Carranza and induced to assist Villa in the Saltillo battle, the state of Durango has been returned to rebel control.

mediators and the representatives of the parties concerned for a settlement of the difficulties between the United States and Mexico will be held. The commissioners firmly declined offers of hospitality made by Brigadier General Funston, as well as Rear Admiral Badger's offer to give them passage on the Morro Castle, and boarded the steamship Kronprinzessin Cecilie, which sails for the United States by way of Havana.

WILL BESEIGE PUERTO PLATA

Washington, May 11.—President Borden of San Domingo declared to Captain Eberle of the U. S. S. Washington that he intends to maintain a blockade and to seize Puerto Plata. Captain Eberle notified the navy department. The Borden note declared that the president intended to give "guarantee of safety to all peaceful residents, safe conduct to noncombatants, to protect the lives and interests of inhabitants and to continue the siege of the place without bombardment."

TO EXCLUDE ALL STRIKEBREAKERS

Trinidad, Colo., May 11.—President Wilson, through Secretary of War Garrison, sent an order to Colonel Lockett, commander of the federal troops in the strike zone, to stop the importation of any strikebreakers and disperse to their homes outside the state all nonresident miners who have come in since the Ludlow battle. It was also announced that an order will be issued from Washington shortly permitting the re-establishment of Ludlow tent colony on the site of the one destroyed by fire April 20, when women and children were suffocated in "safety pits" and strikers and militiamen killed in the fighting.

This is the last discount day for gas and electric light bills.

BATTLE NOW ON

Juarez, May 11.—The most desperately fought battle of the present Mexican revolution is being fought at Tampico, according to reports reaching Constitutionalist officers here. It is reported some of the oil wells and tanks are burning and that a portion of the town is on fire.

RELEASE OF WAR CORRESPONDENTS

Washington, May 11.—Due to the efforts of the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, the four American war correspondents have been released. Medill McCormick and Richard Harding Davis are now on their way to Vera Cruz. Walter Whiffen and Andrew J. Sutton, a photographer, left Mexico City in safety.

UNITED STATES SEIZES ISLAND

Washington, May 11.—Unofficial reports have reached Washington that an American force has taken Lobos Island, a coral reef, just off Tampico. The purpose of the seizure is accepted as being to protect from destruction the very important lighthouse on this island.

ROBBER MEXICANS INVADING TEXAS

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—Depredations are being committed on Texas soil by Mexican marauders, who are making a series of expeditions across the Rio Grande into Texas, according to messages received here. Five horses were stolen in one raid and 30 in another, according to these advices. The horses were taken from the vicinity of Lobo, Tex., apparently for use by the Mexicans as cavalry mounts. The Mexicans are also raiding numerous herds of cattle.

WHITMAN BOOKED

Columbus, O., May 11.—District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York will be the principal speaker at the annual session of the Ohio State Bar association to be held at Cedar Point on July 7, 8 and 9. It was announced by President E. M. Brown and Secretary Charles J. Buss, who met with the executive committee here. Other speakers will be Dudley Kennedy of Youngstown, who will discuss the workmen's compensation act, and Judge Roland W. Baggett of Dayton, who will have the juvenile laws for his subject.

SOCIALISTS INVADE NEW YORK CHURCH

All Roughly Handled By Ushers
and Finally Run In.

New York, May 11.—A dozen Socialists, headed by Buck White, head of the Church of the Social Revolution, were beaten and thrown out of Calvary Baptist church, which John D. Rockefeller attends, when White tried to speak at the services.

Ushers seized and dragged White up the aisle while he clawed at every pew and pillar to hold back. The whole congregation was on its feet and cries of "Let him talk," "Shame, shame," "Put him out, this is the house of God," re-echoed all over the church.

A half dozen fist fights started immediately between the ushers and White's followers. A lieutenant of Frank Tannebaum, the I. W. W. leader, was picked up by ushers and thrown bodily from the church vestibule to the sidewalk. Emmanuel Lopez, a Portuguese, who had not entered the church, was surrounded on the sidewalk by police and beaten with fists and billys until several teeth had been knocked out.

White and 11 others were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and interference with a religious service. The Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, the pastor, who had stood silent in the pulpit throughout the riot, went on with his sermon as soon as the rumpus had been transferred to the sidewalk.

Neither John D. Rockefeller nor his son was at the service.

QUAKINGS RENEWED IN SICILY

Several Hundred Dead as the Result of Friday's Quake.

Rome, May 11.—There was another violent earthquake in Sicily, but it was in a different section from the one of Friday night. The shock was most severe at Randazzo, on the northwestern slope of Mount Etna, some 15 or 20 miles from the section affected by Friday's shocks. There was a panic at Randazzo, which is a town of 10,000 inhabitants.

All the news in regard to Friday's shocks north of Catania is still confused and incomplete. Survivors from the various villages and hamlets are still paralyzed with fear and are unable to describe the disaster. It is believed that more than 200 persons perished.

The great heat now prevailing makes matters worse and is the cause of increased trouble for those who are trying to succor the injured and homeless. Water is scarce, as well as food, and the rations distributed by the soldiers are not sufficient to go around. The range of the zone devastated by Friday's quake is about 200 miles. It is reported that the villages of Linera, Passopomo, Bongiardì, Pensisi and Zerbati were practically obliterated. The rescuers have not as yet reached many scattered farmhouses.

Robert Barkley, the United States vice consul at Catania, visited Linera, and asserts that there were no Americans among the sufferers by the earthquake. King Victor Emmanuel has given $20,000 toward the work of relief.

It is believed that fully 500 persons were injured. Refugees declare the property loss is as great as the Messina disaster of 1908. Then the damage was estimated at $100,000,000. Many villages on the slopes of Mt. Etna were destroyed by the eruption and the fire that followed.

NEW YACHT TO BE LAUNCHED FOR BIG RACE

By Associated Press
Bath, Me., May 10.—The Defiance, one of the three yachts which will seek the honor of defending the America's cup in the race against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger next fall will be launched from her builder's yard here tomorrow, probably about two o'clock in the afternoon. She will be launched bow first instead of stern first, as is customary.

This will be the second of the three boats to get into the water. The Resolute, owned by a syndicate of New York Yacht Club members, took her maiden plunge at Bristol, R. I., two weeks ago, while the Vanitie, which is being built at Boston for Alexander Smith Cochran, is on her ways.

The Defiance carries the aspirations of fifteen yachtmen. It is called the Tri-city yacht, since the syndicate of owners is made up of eight men from Boston, six from New York and one from Philadelphia. George M. Pynchon of New York, E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia and Henry Taggard of Boston, were the prime movers, although Mr. Taggard is acting agent for another Boston yachtman who does not desire his identity made known. Mr. Pynchon is the manager and Mr. Clark the treasurer of the syndicate.

To those unfamiliar with yachts and yachting the Defiance appears to differ but little from her two competitors for cup defending honors. She is a distinctly modern yacht, with a moderately long body, and overhangs, slack bilges, full garboards, and a keel which resembles the old fin type, but is considerably thicker, with some 60 tons of lead on the bottom. She is longer, and wider than the Resolute, but her draught is practically the same.

The feature of the Defiance is in her rig. The mast is well forward of the center, in fact about half way between the center of the lead and the bow. She will, therefore, set a single lower jib, while her main sail will be the largest of the three boats. Her rig is also very lofty, and for the races scheduled off Sandy Hook will be square in shape, two in a mould, and will be made from our Old Virginia family recipe called "Wheat and Injun."

The idea came to me from a government test of corn products, and the great food value found in corn. I use uncooked corn flakes and White Indian meal, instead of the old yellow "Injun", and malted milk instead of "one gord of barn". We get a dandy, white loaf that keeps moist and "eats fine".

Of course we will still make our famous Butter-Krust Bread, "the loaf that put us on our feet". We will also put Butter-Krust labels on this new loaf until your give us its new name July 1st.

SAUER'S BAKERY.

In mid-June the Defiance will have to douse her topmast in passing under East river bridges at New York in her passage from sound to sea. The exact dimensions of the Defiance are withheld for the present but it has been stated that her general measurements are approximately 115 feet over all 74.9 feet on the water line, 22.6 feet beam, 13.9 feet draught and that she will carry about 9,800 square feet of canvas.

PRODUCTION COST IN SASKATCHEWAN

Washington, D. C., May 11.—American wheat growers and farmers will be interested in a report of a Commission appointed by the Government of Saskatchewan "to examine into the ways and means for bettering the position of Saskatchewan grain in the European markets." Incident to this investigation the Commission looked into the cost of producing wheat under present conditions in that province of Canada.

Wheat producers of various sections of the United States will be interested to know that under present conditions the cost of producing wheat as determined by the Commission is reported to be 55 cents per bushel on the farm and 62 cents per bushel f. o. b. cars at country points. According to the report, the cost of production has increased 12.15 per cent since 1909, while, on the other hand, the price of wheat to the Saskatchewan farmer has decreased from 81 1-5 cents per bushel in 1909 to 66 1-8 cents per bushel in 1913, leaving a net return, on this basis, of 4 1-8 cents per bushel to the farmer.

It is possible that the interesting figures which have been developed by the Grain Commission will account for the fact that a large number of American farmers who have, in recent years, left the states to engage in farming in this territory are now asking for a certificate which permits the return of household effects to the United States.

The Shifting of People

Statisticians of experience and reputation make the startling assertion that in a progressive community containing about eight or ten thousand inhabitants, one-half of the population is changed every seven years.

Of course in the larger communities the percentage of change is not so large and grows smaller as the size of the community increases.

These figures, if true, show that the shifting sands of the desert are not more changeable in their location than human beings.

When older folks in a place like Washington pause long enough in the hurry up work of the day, to look about them and check up, the figures, which the statisticians give out, do not seem so startling as they do at first.

In your mind, go up and down the business streets, recall the business men and then call upon your memory for the names of the men who were in active business twenty-five or thirty years ago—check up the present with the past, as memory's record gives the story, and see how many men are not a vital part of the business life of Washington who occupied a prominent place and assumed an active part in the business of thirty years ago.

The result will be even more startling than the figures of the statistician were when you first heard them.

When one comprehends what changes death and business currents have wrought the answer to the question so often heard—why do I know so few people now. I used to know every man, woman and child here—is easy.

It is well for the progress and happiness of human beings that nature in the press of present day affairs conceals these sad facts from us.

Where are our friends of yesterday?

Some, of course, have gone to their eternal home, but the majority have moved away into other fields of activity, their places have been filled with others who have come in with the current of affairs. They are not missed long after the first parting scenes are over except by the very close friends and associates.

Where are the children of yesterday?

Grown to men and women and playing, most of them, well their part in the great drama of life. Some have taken the places in the business world which was formerly occupied by their parents, others have moved away to build a home for themselves and write their names in the history of some other community.

The constant shifting of men and women, the breaking of the old ties, the merciful forgetfulness which nature provides, are all a part of the great plan, but none the less, they contain much of sorrow in realization and retrospect.

This is a big world, and it is a big plan which comprehends it all—the past, the present and the future good—but the smaller circle is ever near and ever dear when busy life allows us a few minutes to contemplate what was only so short a time ago and what is today.

The big procession of human beings is ever on the move and every one of us is a part of it.

America's Influence Makes Out of Hungary Little America In Eastern Europe

By Count KAROLYI, Hungarian Agitator, on Visit to United States

I CANNOT express the admiration I feel for your great organization of public schools. There is nothing like it in our country—nothing what-ever. You may not realize that if Hungary had provided its people with such POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS as those for which we are now fighting the emigration from Hungary to your country in the past years would never have assumed the enormous proportions to which it has grown, and our people would never have sought to exchange the suffocating and stifling air which compressed their mental and economical development for this American air of yours, so saturated with freedom and the spirit of democracy.

IT WAS WITH SORROW THAT WE SAW OUR COUNTRYMEN LEAVING OUR LAND. THIS WAS NATURAL. BUT HUNGARY MUST LOOK WITH GRATITUDE UPON THE UNITED STATES, NOT ONLY BECAUSE YOUR REPUBLIC GAVE THEM THAT OPPORTUNITY WHICH WAS DENIED THEM IN THEIR HOME, BUT, STILL FURTHER, BECAUSE WHEN THEY HAVE ONCE ABSORBED THIS SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY THEY WILL BE ABLE TO FOSTER A SIMILAR MENTAL INFLUENCE IN THE MOTHERLAND, WHICH WILL EVENTUALLY MAKE OUT OF HUNGARY A LITTLE AMERICA IN EASTERN EUROPE, WITH THE SAME ATTRACTIVE POWER, THOUGH IN A SMALLER SCALE, THAT THE UNITED STATES NOW EXERCISES ON THE ENTIRE WORLD.

Poetry For Today

WHO?

"Who is he?" The questioner heard it repeated
With burstings of laughter, exultant and strong;
And, stammering, burning with shame, he retreated
And sought to be lost in the boisterous throng.
"Know him? He's the brainiest in the procession
Of men who are filling the vision today."
What wonder the ignorant, making confession,
From ridicule riant slunk quickly away.

"Who was he?" How cruel the question, years after—
Not cruel to ignorance, but to the clay.
The questioner knew all his fellows knew. Laughter
Nor ridicule drove him, shame-featured, away,
And into the mind of the faithful inquirer
There came a soul-sickening, hope-crushing thought:
How short-lived the hero and hero's admirer!
What's greatness that comes in a decade to naught!

"A NO. 1," FAMOUS HOBO, MARRIED

Romance Halts Roaming of Best Known Tramp.

HIS REAL NAME A SECRET.

Thirty Years' Tramping Around the World at Total Expense of $7.61 Railroad Fare—Learned Four Languages. Now Prominent Citizen of Erie, Pa., Where He Settled Down.

Erie, Pa.—"A No. 1," the "champion hobo" of the world, has settled down and married. The wanderer who made his home from Suez to Sitka has crammed himself up in a six room apartment. The tramp who has been sleeping in box cars for full thirty years now has a mahogany bed.

For a third of a century he drifted aimlessly from Chile to Alaska. He "rode the rods" for more than half a million miles. He saw more scenery at less overhead cost per look than any man living. In thirty years he paid only $7.61 railroad fare. But he never smokes, drinks or gambles. His only great passion was the wanderlust. And now this hobo has forsaken the road, fallen in love and married.

One night in February, 1911, a freight train chugged into the yards at Erie, Pa. The night was cold and a stinging sleet was falling. "A No. 1" was hidden away in one of the box cars dozing. The car inspector routed him out and found that he was half frozen. He took him to his shanty and shared his midnight lunch with him. The remainder of the night "A No. 1" spent sleeping on a bunk covered with black cushions in the glare of a red hot stove. It was an unusual act of kindness for a hobo to receive. "A No. 1" vowed that he would never forget it.

Last November "A No. 1" visited Erie again, and this time he brought a present for his true friend, the car inspector. He was invited to call at the inspector's house. He accepted the invitation. Then he met the inspector's daughter, Miss Mary Abigail Trohoski, a high school graduate, twenty years of age and a finished musician.

In that one night Cupid accomplished for the roamer what "A No. 1" had been trying to do for himself for a quarter of a century.

Love was stronger than wanderlust, and they were engaged. The announcement caused consternation among the ladies of Erie. They whispered about the outrage of pretty Miss Trohoski throwing herself away on a hobo. Some of her friends came to her with tears in their voices and pleaded with her to reconsider it. All in vain. Miss Trohoski replied that hers was not the common variety of hobo. She was right. He is the most remarkable roamer in trampdom.

"A No. 1's" history is too well known to require any detailed comment. He ran away from home when he was eleven years of age and became a yeggman kid. A yeggman tramp doesn't beg; he robs; he would blackmail a man for a meal. He always has a kid to travel with him, for the child can stand outside while he is cracking a safe and give him the signal when a "copper" approaches. Besides, the kid, with the appeal that his tender years makes, can get food for both by begging for it, while a regular old tramp would be more likely to get jail.

The yeggman that this hobo traveled with thirty years ago called him "A No. 1" kid. The boy got his "monicker" from this; tramps never have real names. They are called "Alkali Ike" or "Box Car Bemie" or the like. Ask "A No. 1" his real name, and he will reply, "Sh—sh—just 'A No. 1'."

He has a picture of himself and Jack London taken during their companionship on the road in 1894. "A No. 1" also possesses autographed cards from Thomas A. Edison, Luther Burbank and William H. Taft. Another card has this terse note: "I know 'A No. 1' to be O. K. Theodore Roosevelt."

"A No. 1" has prevented twenty railroad wrecks in as many years. He has letters from three different railroad presidents thanking him for his saving of property and life.

"A No. 1" won a $1,000 wager once by "deadbeating" his way from New York to San Francisco in eleven days and "ix hours. With $750 of this he bought a tomb at Cambridge Springs, Pa., and inscribed this epitaph on it:

"A No. 1"

BILL REFERRED TO TRADE BODIES

Ask 543 Commercial Organizations For Views on Measure.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Initiated by Chamber of Commerce of United States on Report of a Special Committee—Voting to Be For or Against Seven Recommendations. Result to Be Made Public.

Washington. — A referendum relative to the proposed interstate trade commission bill recently reported into the house of representatives by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce was initiated by the chamber of commerce of the United States of America. It goes to the 543 commercial organizations in forty-seven states, and the votes of these organizations, when recorded, will be made public.

The referendum is based on the report of a special committee composed of two business men. The committee presents its recommendations in such form that the membership of each organization is enabled to express its opinions by voting for or against the various proposals.

The seven definite recommendations to be supported or rejected are:

That there be created an interstate trade commission of at least five members, appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, not more than a mere majority of whom shall be of the same political party.

That jurisdiction of the commission in conducting investigation extend to all corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce except such as are amenable to the interstate commerce commission, (it has not been judicially determined whether or not banks are engaged in interstate commerce, but it is not understood to be the purpose of the bill creating an interstate trade commission to include banks among the corporations placed within the jurisdiction of the commission.)

That the commission should not now be given authority to advise applicants concerning the legality of proposed contracts, combinations, etc., under the Sherman act.

That the annual reports of corporations, if required, should at the outset be confined to those of the larger corporations (say, to those having capital resources of $50,000 or more or to those having an annual income of $500,000 and to such other classes of corporations as the commission may officially determine).

That in the annual reports made to the commission corporations ought not to be required to disclose trade processes, shop costs, classification of sales and profits among particular articles, names of customers or other like private information.

That the publication of facts obtained by the commission be confined to such as are to the public interest.

That congress should direct the commission to investigate and report to congress at the earliest practicable date on the advisability of amending the Sherman act to allow a greater degree of co-operation in the conduct and for the protection of the foreign trade.

In suggesting that the membership of the commission should be composed of five members rather than three as proposed in the present house bill, the committee argues that since a large proportion of interstate business of importance is now transacted by corporations the duties of the commission will be so important that so small a membership as three is inadequate. The committee also concludes that a commission may earn a greater degree of popular confidence for nonpartisanship and impartiality than a departmental official can hope to attain. The committee also is convinced that the larger commission would provide for different points of view and opportunity for the inclusion of business experience.

The committee believes that there should be no discrimination as to the kinds of corporations with which the commission deals, since such a limitation might develop a suspicion of favoritism. It says, "Neither size nor any other arbitrary standard of classification is a sure criterion of lawfulness or unlawfulness under the anti-trust acts or under any other laws." The committee is convinced that the general jurisdiction of the commission should not extend to persons and partnerships, giving this reason:

"As a matter of business judgment, individuals and partnerships as such will not engage in interstate or foreign trade on a scale sufficiently large as to have the potentiality of effecting a restraint of trade or creating a monopoly. Before their business assumes a character or a volume that creates possibilities of illegality under the anti-trust acts they are under a practical necessity of adopting the corporate form with its limited liability and other advantages."

ORVILLE STOOKEY JAILED STEALS MOTHER'S HORSE

Youth Who Has Been Guilty of Many Crimes Now Faces Grand Jury on Charge of Horse Stealing.

ARRESTED IN GREENFIELD AFTER TRADING HORSES

Stole Horse From Barn in This City Saturday Night and Is Trained to Greenfield Where Dramatic Arrest Is Made—Bond Is Fixed at $300—Had Eluded the Police Who Were Searching For Him on Another Charge.

Orville Stookey is still trying to break into the penitentiary, or Mansfield reformatory, and he is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of stealing a horse from his mother, Mrs. Alvin Stookey.

Stookey is the young man for whom the police have been searching for a week or ten days, on a charge of stealing his father's buggy harness and a hat and bracelet from his sister. Previous to that he had stolen a carpet from his home. He has been back from the work house only a short time after serving a term for stealing a robe from C. A. Kelley a few months ago.

Saturday evening Stookey went to the barn where his mother's horse was kept, and stole the animal. The theft was reported to the police and Sheriff Nelson, with the result that Mayor Coffey, Chief Moore and Sheriff Nelson spent a good part of Sunday trying to locate young Stookey and place him under arrest.

Mayor Coffey, Chief Moore and Officer Baughn traced the youth toward Greenfield, and spent several hours trying to locate him in the Rock Mills neighborhood, but failed and returned to this city.

Chief Moore, Sheriff Nelson and Officer Baughn again took up the search Sunday afternoon, and arrived in Greenfield late Sunday evening, and as they were passing through the main part of Greenfield they suddenly spied young Stookey driving toward them. He had two girls in the rig with him.

Chief Moore leaped from the auto and before Stookey realized what was happening he was under arrest, much to the surprise of himself and the two girls, Etta and Alma Delph, who were with him.

It was soon discovered that Stookey had traded horses with a man named Weller, receiving $23 in money. Weller was located and was glad to make another change. Stookey had the $23 in his pocket when arrested.

The officers returned to this city with Stookey, and lodged him in the county jail, where he remained until Monday morning when he was taken before Mayor Coffey, charged with stealing a horse valued at $75. He did not deny the charge, as the evidence against him was overwhelming.

Mayor Coffey bound him over to the grand jury under $300, and remanded him back to the county jail. In all probability a special session of the grand jury will again be held before October, and Stookey's case will come before the jury at that time.

For several years Stookey has been going from bad to worse, and during the past few months his crimes have been increasing in number and gravity.

LOCAL HORSES MAY GO TO MEXICO

Mr. Charles Allen, the widely known horseman of this city, is now purchasing artillery horses for the United States government, and now has about 20 head of choice animals suitable for artillery service, and is purchasing every desirable horse available where the price is not exorbitant.

A telegram just received from Capt. W. W. Whiteside, who was in this county purchasing army remounts a short time ago, states that he will be in this city again the last week in May.

In the meantime Mr. Allen has full authority to purchase an unlimited number of horses for army service, and which may soon be used in Mexico.

The artillery horses are somewhat larger than the remounts, and must be sound and weigh not less than 1150 to 1200 pounds.

Artillery horses are scarce at the present time, although it is thought there are a large number on Fayette county farms.

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG WOMAN

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Murray, Mrs. T. W. Marchant and Miss Del Lanum motored to Columbus Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Murray's niece, Miss Virginia Logan, who died Saturday morning at Grant hospital, her death following an operation Friday.

Miss Logan had a number of relatives and friends in this city, who will learn with much regret of her untimely death at twenty-six years of age.

She made her home with her brother, Mr. James Logan, in Columbus. Mr. Murray went to Columbus Saturday to make the arrangements for the funeral which was held Monday afternoon at the Emanuel church on Ogden avenue.

AUTOISTS MUST OBSERVE RULES

Unless autoists strictly observe the rules for entering the Washington cemetery with machines, the gates may once more be closed against them. This is announced by the management of the cemetery as a result of failure to observe the rules laid out for automobiles. Most drivers keep to the drives indicated, but a few have branched off upon other drives with the result that if persisted in, it will be necessary to close the cemetery against the machines.

Two stops are allowed in the cemetery—one at the mound and the other at the vault. The use of certain drives has been greatly appreciated by most autoists.

CASE TO BE TAKEN TO PROBATE COURT

At a session of the County Commissioners, which occupied much of Saturday, Laura B. Jones, J. M. Willis and E. W. Hopkins filed notice of their intention to appeal to the Probate court the condemnation proceedings recently instituted against 4.17 acres of ground on the estate of Laura B. Jones.

The condemnation proceedings were instituted to obtain gravel and sand for road building.

AFTER COUGHING TWO YEARS.

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McGee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

RICHARD OLNEY, AGED 78 DECLINES TO HEAD THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

Richard Olney, who recently declined to accept the appointment as governor of the new federal reserve board, is seventy-eight years old. He was born in Oxford, Mass., and received the degree of A. M. from Brown university in 1856, the degree of LL. B. from Harvard in 1858 and LL. D. from Harvard and Brown in 1893 and Yale in 1901. He was admitted to the bar in 1859, and his practice has since centered in Boston. He was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1874 and attorney general of the United States from 1893 to 1895 in President Cleveland's administration. He then became secretary of state and continued in the office until March 4, 1897.

The most notable incident of Mr. Olney's service as secretary of state was the final settlement of the British controversy over the Venezuelan boundary.

TRAIN RIDERS CLEAN HOUSE

Quartette of Young Men Are Given Choice of Working About Court House or Going to Works, and Lose No Time in Choosing House Cleaning.

"Would you rather clean house or go to the works, boys?"

This was the question Probate Judge Allen asked four young men who faced him on charges of train riding.

"We'll do the cleaning, every time!" chirped the quartette of train riders.

The four men: E. O. Everatt, Newark; Joe Shultz, Pittsburg; Fred Dunlap, Newark and James Wheeler, Newark, were placed in the cooler Saturday night by Detective Kennedy.

When arraigned before Judge Allen they expressed a willingness to work, and were accordingly set at the work of cleaning up the various offices at the court house, dusting the hundreds of record books and files, and cleaning walls.

The four went at their work with a willingness that was pleasing to the court house attaches.

The men were informed that one day's work was all that would be required, and that they could then purchase tickets for Columbus and hit the road once more.

18 MOUNTAIN LIONS BAGGED.

Success of Hunt Conducted in the Yellowstone Park.

Gardiner, Mont.—One of the most unique hunts in history and one that is being conducted on a large scale is the mountain lion drive in the Yellowstone National park. Within fifteen days eighteen lions were bagged, including the largest specimen ever seen in this region. The hunt is going on by permission of the government.

The largest lion was jumped at a point near Gardiner and led the hunters and dogs a chase of forty-five miles before it was killed near the starting point.

The method pursued in hunting the lions is to trail a beast to a tree or some spot where he seeks safety after desperately trying to outwit the pack of dogs chasing him. The lion then is shot.

DELIVERS POSTAL TO DOG.

Carrier Calls "Tige" to Every One Until Right Tail Wags.

Hammond, Ind.—A postal card came from Hot Springs, Ark., directed to "Tige, Hammond, Ind." Postal authorities pondered over it long. It read: "Darling Tige, are you a good dog?" and was signed "Mother."

Julius Kosanke, a mail carrier, agreed to deliver it. He called "Tige" at dogs all day and was chased by them. He at last came to a house where a bow-legged, swayed-backed bull pup came out to meet him.

The dog growled savagely, and Kosanke said, "Hello, Tige!" and the dog wagged his stubby tail. The carrier asked the woman of the house whether her dog's name was Tige.

"It is. Have you a letter from his mother?" she asked Kosanke, and then continued: "Well, here is a letter to his mother; please mail it."

SPECIAL SERVICE EAST END CHAPEL

Beautiful in its simplicity was the Mother's Day service at the East End Chapel last evening. Quite a crowd was present to render loving tribute to the departed, as well as the living mothers. As Rev. Henness, in his able manner, portrayed the different stages of a mother's life, from infancy to the close of life, memories wafted back to the scenes and recollections of childhood, many moistened eyes showed the sympathy and love abiding in every heart, and there was the general wish to pay a tribute to the memory of mother. The song, "If You Love Your Mother Meet Her in the Skies", by Mrs. Nina Cripps, Miss Estella Ford, Miss Ella Baber, accompanied by Dwight Ireland at the piano, was very beautiful and appropriate. The church was decorated with spring's choicest flowers, which seemed to shed their beauty and perfume as a loving tribute in memory of Mother's Day, and may each mother realize the importance of her duty as a mother, for a partnership with God is motherhood. What strength, what purity, what self-control, what love, what wisdom should belong to her who helps God fashion an immortal soul.

POLICE ARREST THREE SCRAPPERS

Receiving a quiet tip that a battle royal, with three participants, was in progress back of the postoffice, the police hurried to the scene Monday morning and arrested Wiley Arnott, Pete Betts and Earl Smith on charges of disorderly conduct.

The trio was escorted to the Mayor's office where each entered a plea of guilty and Arnott and Betts were fined $1 and the costs, while Smith, who became disrespectful toward the court was given $5 and the costs and ordered committed to the workhouse until paid. He agreed to pay, and

MRS. JESS ROWE ANSWERS DEATH CALL

Mrs. Addie J. Rowe, wife of Mr. Jess Rowe, died Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Rowe home near Plano, aged 31 years. Mrs. Rowe has been in poor health for some time and was in the Fayette hospital for special treatment in the vain hope of recovering her health. Since returning home several weeks ago, she has been going down rapidly.

Her death will be learned with much sorrow by many relatives and friends.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock (Standard time) at Maple Grove church, on the White pike. Burial in the New Holland cemetery.

FIRST OF SERIES DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

To a very large and interested audience Rev. W. B. Gage, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the first of a series of "May Messages" Sunday night. In commemoration of the day the first message had as its theme "The Glory of Motherhood," and was a sermon of eloquence and beauty. At the close Mrs. Werter Shoop sang a "Lullaby" most beautifully and a fine male quartet, Dr. L. P. Howell, Messrs. Bowman, Kibler and Barney.

At the morning service Mrs. Wm. Vail (nee Louise Hershey) whose lovely contralto was formerly an asset of the Presbyterian choir, favored the audience with a solo.

"MOTHER'S DAY" IN CITY CHURCHES

Mother's Day was observed generally in the churches of Washington Sunday.

Pastors delivered sermons, beautiful in their appreciation of the significance of the day; special music was rendered and spring blossoms filled the churches with fragrance, while hundreds of carnations were worn "in honor of mother". All of the churches held large audiences at both morning and evening services.

WILSON NAMES PEACE ENVOYS

Justice Lamar and Frederick Lehman to Serve.

WILL CONFER WITH MEDIATORS

Apprehension Felt in Diplomatic Circles as to the Fate of Foreigners in Mexico City in Case a Sudden Revolt Should Overthrow Huerta. Activity in the War and Navy Departments.

Washington, May 11.—President Wilson Sunday received at the White House the Brazilian ambassador, Mr. Da Gama, ranking member of the South American mediators who are seeking to compose the Mexican trouble, and his led to the belief that developments of the past 24 hours involved something more than mere discussion of preliminaries for the coming conference at Niagara Falls. It was plain, however, after the White House conference, that nothing had occurred which would act as an obstacle to the continued progress of the negotiations.

Associate Justice Joseph P. Lamar of the United States supreme court and Frederick W. Lehman of St. Louis, former solicitor general, will be the representatives of the United States to confer with the mediators. This became known from an authoritative source. Justice Lamar had a long talk with the president, and later he and Mr. Lehman conferred.

The war and navy departments showed more than their wonted activity, but no orders of a notable character were issued from either branch. Secretary Garrison and Major General Wotherspoon, chief of staff, were at their desks for several hours, conferring over the precautionary military movements now being matured. Except to say that no additional orders had been sent for troop movements, the officials were silent on their deliberations. Arrangements to secure transports continue. The steamer Chippewa of the Clyde line, at New York, was substituted for the Dorchester of the Merchants and Miners' line, which was found unsuitable.

This is the last discount day for gas and electric light bills.

REVIEW BOARDS TO BE NON-PARTISAN

Columbus, O., May 11.—In the composition of the boards of complaint, the reviewing bodies provided under the Warnes tax law to hear objections of taxpayers to assessments by the district assessors, the state is promised a political novelty. It has been decided by the state tax commission to introduce an innovation and in many of the counties the boards will be made up of one member of each party, thus making them nonpartisan in the full sense of the term.

NORDICA DEAD

Batavia, Java, May 11.—Mme. Lilian Nordica, the singer, is dead. She had been ill for a long time and indeed never recovered from the effects of the wreck of the steamship on which she was a passenger.

BECK MAKES A WILD RIDE

Mansfield, O., May 11.—Struck by a fast passenger train while driving home, Albert J. Beck, 21, a farmer from near Perryville, was caught on the pilot of the engine with the seat of his buggy and carried 14 miles to Mansfield. The horse was instantly killed and the buggy smashed to kindlingwood, but Beck escaped with only a slight cut on his upper lip.

This is the last discount day for gas and electric light bills.

B. & L. ESCAPE INCOME TAXES

Cincinnati, O., May 11.—That building and loan associations under the laws of Ohio, notwithstanding their power to borrow from or loan money to nonmembers, are "organized and operated exclusively for the mutual benefit of their members," within the meaning of the federal corporation income tax law and come strictly within the proviso giving them exemption from the payment of a federal tax upon their incomes, is held by United States District Judge Hollister. He so ruled in an opinion handed down in the cases of the Central Building, Loan and Savings company of Columbus against Willis G. Bowland as collector of internal revenue for the Eleventh Ohio district, and the Bellefontaine Building and Loan company against General William V. McMaken as collector of internal revenue for the Tenth Ohio internal revenue district.

KNOX AT ISSUE WITH EXECUTIVE

Gives Views of Taft Administration on Free Tolls.

ATTACKS THE REPEAL MEASURE

Bill Involves the Surrender of American Sovereignty Over the Panama Canal, According to the Former Secretary of State—Says It Proposes to Give to Great Britain More Than She Ever Asked.

Washington, May 11.—The Taft administration's views on the repudiation by President Wilson of the free tolls clause in the Panama canal act are set forth for the first time. Philander C. Knox, secretary of state under President Taft, issued a statement which is certain to have a considerable influence in the contest now pending in the senate. It was Mr. Knox who officially opposed the British contentions when their protest was first filed.

Ex-Secretary Knox maintains that the repeal of the free tolls bill involves a surrender of American sovereignty over the canal. He insists that the free tolls legislation does not violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. He declared further that President Wilson is now proposing to give Great Britain more than she ever asked. Mr. Knox asserts, in fact, that in the negotiations under the Taft administration Great Britain complained merely that her rights under the treaty would be violated if the exemption was not restricted to bona fide coastwise trade and if the tolls were not computed upon the basis of all ships using the canal.

The United States met the objections and, in Mr. Knox's opinion, that action "completely disposed of the British complaint." Yet President Wilson, he insists, now proposes action by congress which not only goes beyond anything ever asked by Great Britain, but the rights flowing from sovereignty and absolute ownership of the canal.

The statement frequently has been made that Mr. Knox and President Taft resented Senator Root's speech against free tolls at a time when they practically disposed of the controversy with Great Britain. In his statement Mr. Knox stands on opposite grounds to that occupied by Former Secretary of State Root.

WIRE FLASHES

WILSON'S TRIBUTE

Service Held Over Remains of Heroes Killed at Vera Cruz.

New York, May 11.—President Wilson arrived in this city this morning and attended the funeral services in the navy yard over the remains of the American marines who were killed at Vera Cruz.

The president was entertained at lunch in the yard by Capt. Gelves, the commandant, who also had Secretary Daniels as his guest. The presidential party left for Washington on the Congressional Limited in the afternoon.

The feature of the memorial exercises was President Wilson's address, in which tribute was paid to the soldier dead. A salute also was fired.

The bodies of the dead heroes were brought ashore shortly before 8 o'clock today and placed upon caissons in the procession, which moved up Broadway to City hall for a brief ceremony there, and on across the Manhattan bridge to the navy yard for the main services.

Secretary Daniels said: "We come here to show our respect and admiration for the men who gave their lives for their nation at Vera Cruz. By coming here we hope to show our appreciation of the fine civic spirit shown by the people of New York and of the admirable preparations made for these memorial services."

The cruiser Montana arrived Sunday with 17 of the coffined dead, the bodies being swathed in the stars and stripes. The president's yacht Mayflower, with Secretary of the Navy Daniels on board, and the battleship Wyoming escorted the Montana into the harbor here. Black masses of people and long lines of automobiles lined the shore front.

MERCHANT SUICIDES

Mansfield, O., May 11.—Abraham C. Lantz, 44, prominent business man, placed the muzzle of a double-barreled shotgun to his eyes and, pulling both triggers with his feet, blew off the top of his head, in the attic of his home here. Mr. Lantz had been despondent over financial difficulties in which he had become involved.

ABANDON OIL WELLS

Findlay, O., May 11.—In the northwestern Ohio fields 88 wells have been abandoned since Jan. 1. The largest number abandoned was in April, when the price of crude oil began to fall. Most of the wells abandoned have given out entirely.

UNWORKED INDIAN MOUNDS ARE FOUND

Six Groups With No Previous Record Located in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis.—Rich Indian finds have been made recently in three counties of northern Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin Archaeological society is publishing an account of the explorations conducted by two of its members, J. P. Schumacher of Green Bay and W. A. Titus of Fond du Lac, in Portage, Marathon and Lincoln counties recently.

A study was made by these men, both of whom are experienced investigators, of the aboriginal remains still existing about Wausau, Merrill, Tomahawk, Heaford and other places along the upper Wisconsin river.

Near Bradley and Heaford surveys were made of six distinct groups of Indian earthworks of which there had been no previous state record. The largest of these consisted of thirty-three conical and oval mounds. An emblematic mound in one of the groups is the only one of its class as yet located in northern Wisconsin.

It is more than sixty miles north of the northernmost limit of the effigy mound territory. At this place there also exists a fine plot of old Indian garden beds.

In Portage county the work of the investigators was chiefly confined to the regions about Lakes Emily and Onondaga, near each of which important discoveries were made.

Good News for You! Pain Disappears!

Have You Heard About "The Road to Quick Relief"?—Better Get Acquainted With Speedway.

There's more joy for you in one bottle of Speedway than in a whole year of spring days. For Speedway does take the aches and pains away. Speedway is for those tired, stiff joints—for bruises and sprains—for rheumatic limbs that make you wince every time you move.

Linger up with Speedway! Feel frisky and fine by simply applying this magic balm. It feels good when you use it—you feel like a new person afterward.

Putting it on full strength—rubbing gently until the skin glows—is just the thing. For Speedway cannot burn or blister the skin. It's as soothing and pleasant as toilet water. It cannot stain the flesh or the daintiest fabric, bearing a kind and gentle remedy—and just as sure as it is agreeable.

Suppose you go—the first minute you get the chance to Blackmer & Tanquary, or Christopher's or Baldwin's and buy a bottle of Speedway. Better get the large size, and use it faithfully—then you will absolutely receive the results promised or the druggist will return your money.

Speedway was discovered and successfully used for years by a good old Scotch physician. Now it is given to the world—ready to prove your "road to quick relief." Try it now. adv

MAUSOLEUM WORK
PROGRESSES SLOWLY

Work on the mausoleum under course of erection in the Washington cemetery is moving forward slowly, and at the present time the walls of the structure have reached a height of several feet, while part of the crypts have been made, and the forms have been laid for pouring more of the crypts within a short time.

The mausoleum will, in all probability, be completed during the coming summer. It is being constructed of cement and stone.

STREET RACING VERY DANGEROUS

Fast driving or racing on the streets at night must be discontinued or the police will arrest the guilty parties under the ordinance prohibiting such offenses.

The use of the streets by drivers of horses for racing, particularly on Sunday nights, has been increasing within the past few weeks, and a number of serious accidents have nearly resulted where the hilarious drivers have dashed recklessly down the streets whipping their horses and nearly driving them over pedestrians or colliding with other rigs.

Complaint has been made to the authorities and they are determined to put a stop to the nuisance at once.

STREET OILING BEGINS TODAY

The first street oiling of the season took place Monday morning, when North street, from Court to Market was given a good coating of oil.

Other of the principal streets will be oiled without delay, and are being prepared for the reception of oil.

O'SHAUGHNESSY TO SEE WILSON

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—President Wilson, it was announced today, will receive former Charge d' affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy tomorrow.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy has conferred with Secretary Bryan several times since his arrival in Washington last week. He also talked with Secretary Tumulty, but the President has not found earlier opportunity to see him.

TAKING ANOTHER CRACK AT JUDGE

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 11.—A resolution directing the house judiciary committee to investigate the conduct of Judge Alston G. Dayton, of the Northern District of West Virginia, was introduced in the House today by Representative Neely, of West Virginia.

The resolution sites charges made in a petition by more than 9,000
West Virginia citizens urging action.

The charges relate to the conduct of Judge Dayton in labor cases.

THIRD ENVOY YET UNNAMED

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Associate Justice Lamar of the United States Supreme Court and Frederick W. Lehman, of St. Louis, former solicitor-general, have been selected by President Wilson to represent his views before the South American mediators in the Mexican mediation negotiations.

Secretary Bryan made this official announcement today. Whether a third man will be appointed, Mr.
Bryan declined to say.

Bedridden Twelve Years.

Akron, O.—Jacob Herr, seventy-five, who had not been out of his bed in twelve years, is dead. Twenty-five years ago he was stricken with paralysis and twelve years ago his condition became such that he was unable to leave his bed. In the last ten years he had prayed silently for death to relieve him.

WARNER SUICIDE

By Associated Press.

Harbin, Manchuria, May 11.—
Southard P. Warner, 33, United States Consul at Harbin, committed suicide today in a hospital here, where he was undergoing treatment.

Mr. Warner had held the appointment since August 1912, but had been in the American Consular ser-

KEEP MINES CLOSED 'TILL PEACE COMES

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 11.—No mines will be permitted to re-open in the Colorado strike district for the present, according to a statement announced by Secretary Garrison today.

He denied that orders had been issued forbidding the importation of strike-breakers, but explained that while the situation remained threatening, the mines not already running would probably be kept closed until,
in his judgment their opening would not cause further trouble.

FILIPINOS USE LESS OPIUM.

Habit Checked, Consumption Reduced,
Says Government Report.

Washington.—Consumption of opium among the Filipinos has been completely checked, if not entirely eradicated, says a report to Brigadier General Mc-Intyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, from the collector of internal revenue in the Philippines. He says that as a result of laws on the subject
"the use of opium is now confined to a comparatively small number of confirmed users of the drug, practically all of whom are Chinese, who cannot give up the vice and who will go to any length to obtain it."

While there are in many parts of the islands scattering instances where Filipinos still indulge in the use of opium, it is reported that less than 5 per cent of the former Filipino users, who had numbered 40,000 in 1906, were still victims of the vice in 1911 and that since then conditions in Manila have greatly improved. Conditions in the provinces are said to be fairly satisfactory.

"It is perhaps too much," the report says, "to suspect that the opium evil will ever be absolutely suppressed in the Philippine Islands. It may be said, however, that almost without exception Chinese users of opium in any of its forms are today using a much smaller amount than that used by the same persons a few years ago. This is shown by the comparative ease with which Chinese users sent to the hospital today are cured. The only hope of approximating total suppression lies in making indulgence in the habit so difficult that the younger generation will not acquire it, and in this direction the progress made has certainly been most satisfactory."

Over Fifteen Thousand Factories in Ohio

Do you know what they are all making? Did you know that Ohio leads the country in the manufacture of carriages and wagons, of pottery and clay products, and a few other things? That it is second in automobiles?

What do you know about your state, in the lines of practical knowledge that every resident ought to know? It is impossible to remember much of the data that you read, of course, and you need your memory for things of immediate use in the task of earning your daily bread. Knowing where to find information and other matters, and having the means at your hand, is the important thing.
That is what our OHIO ALMANAC has done for you. Men who know thoroughly the various departments of the history Ohio is making every day, have gathered the important facts together for you and put them into a book that is as concise as it is complete. The splendid index removes all possibility of tedium and delay in find-

Nation Honors Dead Heroes Who Fell While Planting Old Glory at Vera Cruz

Seventeen Victims, Laid Low by Mexican Fire, Are Tenderly Consigned to Final Resting Places.

THEIR NAMES ARE WRITTEN ON THE NATIONAL ROLL OF HONOR

President Wilson Journeys to New York and Delivers an Address Full of Feeling—Rebukes the Sneerers.

By Associated Press.

New York City, May 11.—To the men of the Navy who died in the occupation of Vera Cruz, the city, the state and the nation paid tribute today in a demonstration chiefly remarkable for its silence and solemnity. For four miles through the city streets the funeral procession passed, and behind it in an open carriage rode the President. He sat for the most part with head bared, though the sun beat down upon him and the mercury climbed to about 70. Perhaps a million persons saw the seventeen coffins borne from the Battery plaza in Lower Manhattan, to the Navy Yard in Brooklyn. The procession was nearly two hours in passing. The dead from Vera Cruz were landed on American soil today and city, state and nation paid their tribute. Two hours before the city was astir, seventeen flag-draped coffins were removed from the deck of the armored cruiser Montana and placed on caissons on the plaza in Battery Park. Few witnessed this ceremony, but thousands later lined the streets to watch the slow procession wind its way to the Navy Yard. Perhaps not since the Dewey parade has there been such a spontaneous demonstration.

President Wilson arrived in the city from Washington shortly before 7 o'clock, almost unobserved, and was taken immediately to the home of his close friend, Col. E. M. House, thence to the Battery to take a place in the procession.

Twenty-four picked mounted police led the way of the procession. Behind them were the combined bands of the dreadnaughts Texas and Wyoming, and behind the bands six hundred bluejackets from the ships. Next came the coffins in single file. At the side of each rode a policeman and at the corner of each caisson trudged a national guardsman. The Stars and Stripes alone covered the caskets. Behind the last caisson came the carriages bearing the President, the Secretary of the Navy, Senators, Congressmen and representatives of the city and state.

At the City Hall the procession halted while Mayor Mitchell placed upon a caisson a wreath of orchids, the city's tribute. From there the route lay north along Manhattan Bridge to Brooklyn and the Navy Yard. There the ceremonies were simple and comparatively brief. A hymn by the battleship bands, invocation by Chaplain W. G. Cassard of Annapolis, then President Wilson's address, prayer by Rabbi Stephen Wise and Father John P. Chidwick, Chaplain of the Main. . . .

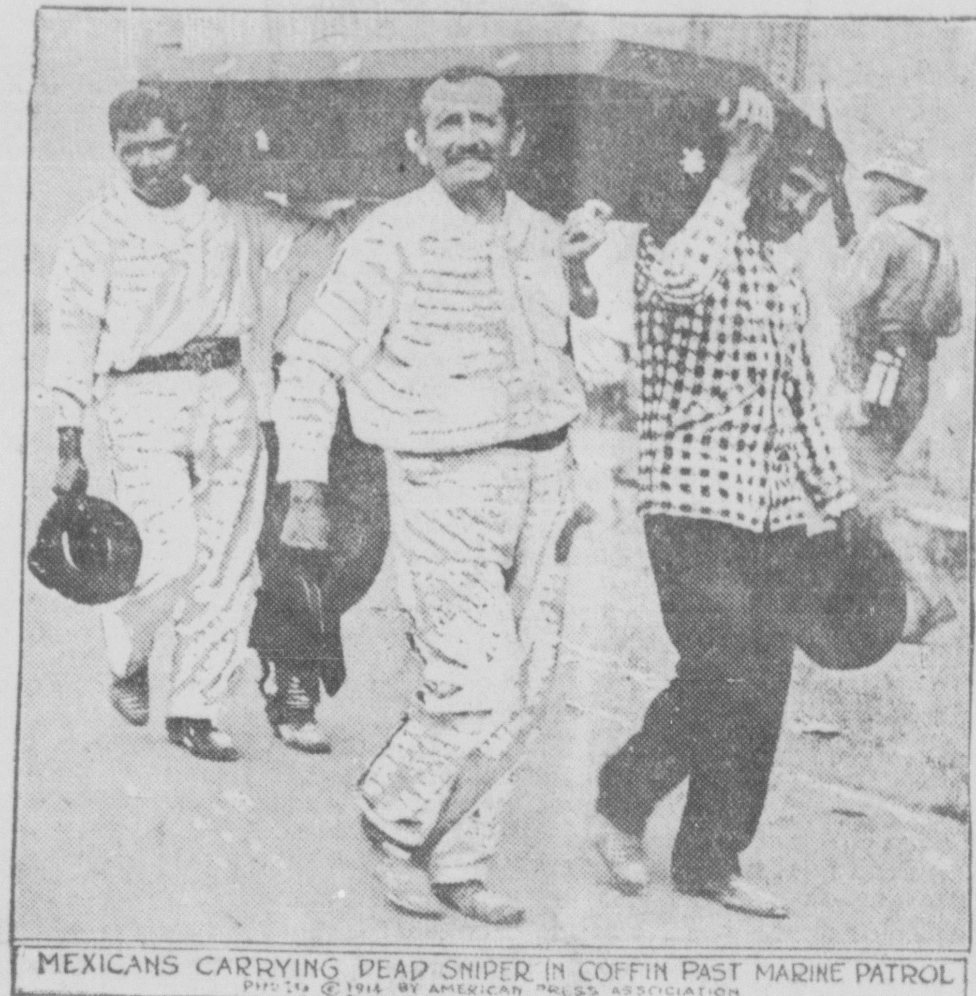

Three volleys were fired by a detachment of Marines from the Texas and taps by a bugler concluded the program.

After the invocation, Secretary Daniels turned to the President and said: "Mr. President, I have the solemn honor to report to you as Commander-in-Chief of the Navy of the United States, the names of fifteen sailors and four marines, who recently, at Vera Cruz, sealed with their blood their devotion to the flag of their country. All were in the prime of a vigorous young manhood. Of the nineteen who answered their last roll call, thirteen were twenty-two or under. I hand you, Sir, the names of these heroes, recorded high in the National Roll of Honor, that they may be preserved in the archives of our Republic. Their services will be held in lasting remembrance by a grateful people."

President Wilson had no formal address prepared for the ceremony. His reply to the Secretary was delivered with slow, impressiveness. He said: "Mr. Secretary, I know that the feelings which characterize all who stand about me are not feelings that can be expressed in eloquence or oratory. For my own part I have a mixture of feelings. The feeling that is uppermost is one of profound grief that these lads should have gone to their death. But yet, I feel a profound pride and envy that they should have been permitted to do their duty so nobly. I hope to God none of you will join the list, but if you will, you will join an immortal company. We have gone down to Mexico to serve mankind, if we can find the way. We don't want to fight the Mexicans, we want to serve them. A war of aggression is not a thing in which it is proud to die, but a war of service is a war in which it is a proud thing to die. War is only a sort of dramatical representation, symbolical of a thousand forms of duty. I never was in battle or under fire, but I fancy it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you, for when they shoot you they take your natural life, and when they sneer at you they wound your heart."

AFTER THE BATTLE IN VERA CRUZ; STREET SCENE REFLECTING WAR'S TOLL

A body of a Mexican sniper killed by Americans is being carried in a coffin through Vera Cruz by fellow Mexicans. United States marines are patrolling the street. The picture was taken shortly after the battle of occupation. The Mexicans are reported to have lost about 150 dead. The Americans lost nineteen dead.

BLOWS UP GUNBOAT MAYO LEAVES GREAT WEALTH

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Rear Admiral Howard, commander of the Pacific fleet, reported today the abandoned Mexican Federal gunboat Morelos was yesterday boarded, set fire to and blown up by the Constitutionalists at Mazatlan.

NORDICA'S BODY WILL COME HOME

Batavia, Java, May 11.—The body of Madam Lillian Nordica, the American singer, who died here from pneumonia last night, is to be sent to the United States. It will leave here on May 16th.

OIL DROPS TO LOWER NOTCH

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 11.—Ten cents came off the price of the principal grades of crude oil today. The following prices were quoted: Pennsylvania Crude, 190; Mercer Black, 140; Newcastle, 140; Corning, 105; Cabell, 147. The reduction in Somerset was 5 cents to $1.05 a barrel.

By Associated Press.

New York, May 11.—Col. John Calhoun Mayo, Democrat National Committeemen from Kentucky, died here this afternoon at a hotel, after an illness lasting since April 25th.

Col. Mayo was brought here for further treatment after a transfusion of blood at Cincinnati, O., had failed.

He was an associate of Clarence W. Watson, former United States Senator of West Virginia.

His wealth is estimated at $25,000,000 to $40,000,000.

BECKER TRIAL IS UNDER WAY

By Associated Press.

New York City, May 11.—A jury to try Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was again completed today. Frank A. Strock, a bookkeeper, and Frederick C. Barrett, a consulting engineer, were the men chosen today to take the places of the men excused Saturday.

It was just noon when the twelve jurors were selected and District Attorney Whitman immediately began his opening address and presentation of the state's case to the jury. His speech was chiefly a review of events leading up to and following the murder.

AMERICAN OFFICER ARRESTED UPON HIS RETURN FROM MEXICO CITY

Government Objects to Being Unnecessarily Placed, in Bad Light—Cannonading Heard at Tampico—Several Americans Refuse to Leave.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The navy department today called upon Rear Admiral Badger for a complete report concerning the unofficial statement that an American force had landed upon Lobos Island, eight miles from the Mexican shore between Vera Cruz and Tampico, and taken possession of the lighthouse.

ESCAPED AND WAS ARRESTED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—First Lieutenant Charles M. Maigne, of the U. S. army, retired, who went through the Mexican lines at Vera Cruz as a newspaper correspondent, was arrested today upon returning to Vera Cruz.

Advices of his arrest reached the war department from General Funston. Maigne's arrest was ordered from Washington on the ground that it would be difficult to explain satisfactorily the presence of an American officer within the lines of those who contest the rights of the United States on Mexican soil, even if he was a newspaper correspondent.

CANNON SHOTS AT TAMPICO

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Admiral Mayo has reported that 23 cannon shots were heard at Tampico last night. American Consul C. A. Miller and the Vice Consul are now aboard the Connecticut, he reported. Ten or fifteen Americans refused to leave the city.

LABOR LEADERS ARE NOT GUILTY

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—The contempt sentences imposed by the District Supreme court upon Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, labor leaders, were set aside today by the U. S. Supreme court for the second time as barred by the Statute of Limitations. Justice Holmes said the case turned upon the point that the contempt proceedings should have been started within three years from the date of the committing of the offences. He said that proceedings for contempt should be speedy and thus come within the purpose of the Statute of Limitations, which require prosecution within 3 years. Justice Pitney and Vandeventer dissented.

POUND FEDERALS IN STRONGHOLDS

Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and Mazatlan Attacked By Rebels.

20,000 MEN STORM FORMER

General Villa's Forces Closing In On
Huerta's Armies at Every Possible
Point in North Mexico In Order to Hasten Recognition of the Consti-
tutionalist Cause—Wants Embargo
On Arms Raised.

Chihuahua, Mexico, May 11.—Rebels began a general assault upon all federal strongholds in northern Mexico, including the cities of Saltillo and San Luis Potosi and the port of Mazatlan. Orders were issued by General Villa for the Saltillo and San Luis Potosi attacks following a conference with Carranza, during which the rebel leaders discussed the campaign and agreed that it is now necessary for the rebels to close in on Huerta's forces at every possible point and hasten recognition of the Constitutionalist cause in order to accomplish the lifting of the embargo on ammunition.

With 20,000 men, led by Manuel Chao, the deposed governor of Chihuahua, the Saltillo attack became general. Chao's command includes

2,000 cavalrymen, the most desperate in the rebel army, and to them has been given the honor of being the first in the fight.

Saltillo has not been abandoned by federalists nor was there any indication of Velasco giving up without a desperate fight. Additional reinforcements have reached the defenders and the city has been strongly fortified. Advice from Torreon said Villa is convinced he must fight long and desperately to take the city. Villa is directing the battle himself. Rebels have seized the waterworks plant in the outskirts of Saltillo, and Villa has established his headquarters there, so he can quickly cut off the water supply of the city, but says he will not do so because of the suffering it would entail among the people of the besieged city.

San Luis Potosi was again attacked by 8,000 rebels under General Torres. He has the city practically surrounded, according to official advice. Villa ordered Torres to begin the assault as a part of the general campaign of the rebels. A resumption of the rebel land attack upon Mazatlan also was ordered by General Villa and the city was being bombarded with 20 cannon, according to dispatches received here by rebel officials.

General Carranza announced that he would leave for the city of Durango to establish civil government in the state. Since the Arrieta brothers were pacified by Carranza and induced to assist Villa in the Saltillo battle, the state of Durango has been returned to rebel control.

mediators and the representatives of the parties concerned for a settlement of the difficulties between the United States and Mexico will be held. The commissioners firmly declined offers of hospitality made by Brigadier General Funston, as well as Rear Admiral Badger's offer to give them passage on the Morro Castle, and boarded the steamship Kronprinzessin Cecilie, which sails for the United States by way of Havana.

WILL BESEIGE PUERTO PLATA

Washington, May 11.—President Bordes of San Domingo declared to Captain Eberle of the U. S. S. Washington that he intends to maintain a blockade and to seize Puerto Plata. Captain Eberle notified the navy department. The Bordes note declared that the president intended to give "guarantee of safety to all peaceful residents, safe conduct to noncombatants, to protect the lives and interests of inhabitants and to continue the siege of the place without bombardment."

TO EXCLUDE ALL STRIKEBREAKERS

Trinidad, Colo., May 11.—President Wilson, through Secretary of War Garrison, sent an order to Colonel Lockett, commander of the federal troops in the strike zone, to stop the importation of any strikebreakers and disperse to their homes outside the state all nonresident miners who have come in since the Ludlow battle. It was also announced that an order will be issued from Washington shortly permitting the re-establishment of Ludlow tent colony on the site of the one destroyed by fire April 20, when women and children were suffocated in "safety pits" and strikers and militiamen killed in the fighting.

This is the last discount day for gas and electric light bills.

BATTLE NOW ON

Juarez, May 11.—The most desperately fought battle of the present Mexican revolution is being fought at Tampico, according to reports reaching Constitutional officers here. It is reported some of the oil wells and tanks are burning and that a portion of the town is on fire.

RELEASE OF WAR CORRESPONDENTS

Washington, May 11.—Due to the efforts of the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, the four American war correspondents have been released. Medill McCormick and Richard Harding Davis are now on their way to Vera Cruz. Walter Whiffen and Andrew J. Sutton, a photographer, left Mexico City in safety.

UNITED STATES SEIZES ISLAND

Washington, May 11.—Unofficial reports have reached Washington that an American force has taken Lobos Island, a coral reef, just off Tampico. The purpose of the seizure is accepted as being to protect from destruction the very important lighthouse on this island.

ROBBER MEXICANS INVADING TEXAS

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—Depredations are being committed on Texas soil by Mexican marauders, who are making a series of expeditions across the Rio Grande into Texas, according to messages received here. Five horses were stolen in one raid and 30 in another, according to these reports. The horses were taken from the vicinity of Lobo, Tex., apparently for use by the Mexicans as cavalry mounts. The Mexicans are also raiding numerous herds of cattle.

WHITMAN BOOKED

Columbus, O., May 11.—District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York will be the principal speaker at the annual session of the Ohio State Bar association to be held at Cedar Point on July 7, 8 and 9, it was announced by President E. M. Brown and Secretary Charles A. Buss, who met with the executive committee here. Other speakers will be Dudley Kennedy of Youngstown, who will discuss the workmen's compensation act, and Judge Roland W. Baggott of Dayton, who will have the juvenile laws for his subject.

SOCIALISTS INVADE NEW YORK CHURCH

All Roughly Handled By Ushers
and Finally Run In.

New York, May 11.—A dozen Socialists, headed by Buck White, head of the Church of the Social Revolution, were beaten and thrown out of Calvary Baptist church, which John D. Rockefeller attends, when White tried to speak at the services.

Ushers seized and dragged White up the aisle while he clawed at every pew and pillar to hold back. The whole congregation was on its feet and cries of "Let him talk," "Shame, shame," "Put him out, this is the house of God," re-echoed all over the church.

A half dozen fist fights started immediately between the ushers and White's followers. A lieutenant of Frank Tannebaum, the I. W. W. leader, was picked up by ushers and thrown bodily from the church vestibule to the sidewalk. Emmanuel Lopez, a Portuguese, who had not entered the church, was surrounded on the sidewalk by police and beaten with fists and bluffs until several teeth had been knocked out.

White and 11 others were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and interference with a religious service. The Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woelfkin, the pastor, who had stood silent in the pulpit throughout the riot, went on with his sermon as soon as the rumpus had been transferred to the sidewalk.

Neither John D. Rockefeller nor his son was at the service.

QUAKINGS RENEWED IN SICILY

Several Hundred Dead as the Result of Friday's Quake.

Rome, May 11.—There was another violent earthquake in Sicily, but it was in a different section from the one of Friday night. The shock was most severe at Randazzo, on the northwestern slope of Mount Etna, some 15 or 20 miles from the section affected by Friday's shocks. There was a panic at Randazzo, which is a town of 10,000 inhabitants.

All the news in regard to Friday's shocks north of Catania is still confused and incomplete. Survivors from the various villages and hamlets are still paralyzed with fear and are unable to describe the disaster. It is believed that more than 200 persons perished.

The great heat now prevailing makes matters worse and is the cause of increased trouble for those who are trying to succor the injured and homeless. Water is scarce, as well as food, and the rations distributed by the soldiers are not sufficient to go around. The range of the zone devastated by Friday's quake is about 200 miles. It is reported that the villages of Linera, Passopomo, Bongiardì, Pensì and Zerbatì were practically obliterated. The rescuers have not as yet reached many scattered farmhouses.

Robert Barkley, the United States vice consul at Catania, visited Linera, and asserts that there were no Americans among the sufferers by the earthquake. King Victor Emmanuel has given $20,000 toward the work of relief.

It is believed that fully 500 persons were injured. Refugees declare the property loss is as great as the Messina disaster of 1908. Then the damage was estimated at $100,000,000. Many villages on the slopes of Mt. Etna were destroyed by the eruption and the fire that followed.

NEW YACHT TO BE LAUNCHED FOR BIG RACE

By Associated Press
Bath, Me., May 10.—The Defiance, one of the three yachts which will seek the honor of defending the America's cup in the race against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger next fall will be launched from her builder's yard here tomorrow, probably about two o'clock in the afternoon. She will be launched bow first instead of stern first, as is customary.

This will be the second of the three boats to get into the water. The Resolute, owned by a syndicate of New York Yacht Club members, took her maiden plunge at Bristol, R. I., two weeks ago, while the Vanitie, which is being built at Boston for Alexander Smith Cochran, is on her ways.

The Defiance carries the aspirations of fifteen yachtsmen. It is called the Tri-city yacht, since the syndicate of owners is made up of eight men from Boston, six from New York and one from Philadelphia. George M. Pynchon of New York, E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia and Henry Taggard of Boston, were the prime movers, although Mr. Taggard is acting agent for another Boston yachtman who does not desire his identity made known. Mr. Pynchon is the manager and Mr. Clark the treasurer of the syndicate.

To those unfamiliar with yachts and yachting the Defiance appears to differ but little from her two competitors for cup defending honors. She is a distinctly modern yacht, with a moderately long body, and overhangs, slack bilges, full garboards, and a keel which resembles the old fin type, but is considerably thicker, with some 60 tons of lead on the bottom. She is longer, and wider than the Resolute, but her draught is practically the same.

The feature of the Defiance is in her rig. The mast is well forward of the center, in fact about half way between the center of the lead and the bow. She will, therefore, set a single lower jib, while her main sail will be the largest of the three boats. Her rig is also very lofty, and for the races scheduled off Sandy Hook a committee of three disinterested ladies will carefully examine the names suggested and make the decision, but they will not be allowed to know who is participating.

$10.00 IN GOLD FOR THE BEST NAME

Suggest as many names as you like. All you need is a Butter-Krust Label with each name.

The New Loaf

will be square in shape, two in a mould, and will be made from our Old Virginia family recipe called "Wheat and Injun."

The idea came to me from a government test of corn products, and the great food value found in corn. I use uncooked corn flakes and White Indian meal, instead of the old yellow "Injun", and malted milk instead of "one gord of barn". We get a dandy, white loaf that keeps moist and "eats fine".

Of course we will still make our famous Butter-Krust Bread, "the loaf that put us on our feet". We will also put Butter-Krust labels on this new loaf until your give us its new name July 1st.

SAUER'S BAKERY.

In mid-June, the Defiance will have to douse her topmast in passing under East river bridges at New York in her passage from sound to sea. The exact dimensions of the Defiance are withheld for the present but it has been stated that her general measurements are approximately 115 feet over all, 74.9 feet on the water line, 22.6 feet beam, 13.9 feet draught and that she will carry about 9,800 square feet of canvas.

PRODUCTION COST IN SASKATCHEWAN

Washington, D. C., May 11.—American wheat growers and farmers will be interested in a report of a Commission appointed by the Government of Saskatchewan "to examine into the ways and means for bettering the position of Saskatchewan grain in the European markets." Incident to this investigation the Commission looked into the cost of producing wheat under present conditions in that province of Canada.

Wheat producers of various sections of the United States will be interested to know that under present conditions the cost of producing wheat as determined by the Commission is reported to be 55 cents per bushel on the farm and 62 cents per bushel f. o. b. cars at country points. According to the report, the cost of production has increased 12.15 per cent since 1909, while, on the other hand, the price of wheat to the Saskatchewan farmer has decreased from 81 1-5 cents per bushel in 1909 to 66 1-8 cents per bushel in 1913, leaving a net return, on this basis, of 4 1-8 cents per bushel to the farmer.

It is possible that the interesting figures which have been developed by the Grain Commission will account for the fact that a large number of American farmers who have, in recent years, left the states to engage in farming in this territory are now asking for a certificate which permits the return of household effects to the United States.

FOR A WELL ORDERED HOUSEHOLD

The scars of use are to be expected, for that is what furniture is for; it is bought with the idea of using it and the more comfortable a chair, the more luxurious a couch or settee, the more knocks they get. The Shifting of People

Statisticians of experience and reputation make the startling assertion that in a progressive community containing about eight or ten thousand inhabitants, one-half of the population is changed every seven years.

Of course in the larger communities the percentage of change is not so large and grows smaller as the size of the community increases.

These figures, if true, show that the shifting sands of the desert are not more changeable in their location than human beings.

When older folks in a place like Washington pause long enough in the hurry up work of the day, to look about them and check up, the figures, which the statisticians give out, do not seem so startling as they do at first.

In your mind, go up and down the business streets, recall the business men and then call upon your memory for the names of the men who were in active business twenty-five or thirty years ago—check up the present with the past, as memory's record gives the story, and see how many men are not a vital part of the business life of Washington who occupied a prominent place and assumed an active part in the business of thirty years ago.

The result will be even more startling than the figures of the statistician were when you first heard them.

When one comprehends what changes death and business currents have wrought the answer to the question so often heard—why do I know so few people now. I used to know every man, woman and child here—is easy.

It is well for the progress and happiness of human beings that nature in the press of present day affairs conceals these sad facts from us.

Where are our friends of yesterday?

Some, of course, have gone to their eternal home, but the majority have moved away into other fields of activity, their places have been filled with others who have come in with the current of affairs. They are not missed long after the first parting scenes are over except by the very close friends and associates.

Where are the children of yesterday?

Grown to men and women and playing, most of them, well their part in the great drama of life. Some have taken the places in the business world which was formerly occupied by their parents, others have moved away to build a home for themselves and write their names in the history of some other community.

The constant shifting of men and women, the breaking of the old ties, the merciful forgetfulness which nature provides, are all a part of the great plan, but none the less, they contain much of sorrow in realization and retrospect.

This is a big world, and it is a big plan which comprehends it all—the past, the present and the future good—but the smaller circle is ever near and ever dear when busy life allows us a few minutes to contemplate what was only so short a time ago and what is today.

The big procession of human beings is ever on the move and every one of us is a part of it.

America's Influence Makes Out of Hungary Little America In Eastern Europe

By Count KAROLYI, Hungarian Agitator, on Visit to United States

I CANNOT express the admiration I feel for your great organization of public schools. There is nothing like it in our country—nothing whatever. You may not realize that if Hungary had provided its people with such POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS as those for which we are now fighting the emigration from Hungary to your country in the past years would never have assumed the enormous proportions to which it has grown, and our people would never have sought to exchange the suffocating and stifling air which compressed their mental and economical development for this American air of yours, so saturated with freedom and the spirit of democracy.

IT WAS WITH SORROW THAT WE SAW OUR COUNTRYMEN LEAVING OUR LAND. THIS WAS NATURAL. BUT HUNGARY MUST LOOK WITH GRATITUDE UPON THE UNITED STATES, NOT ONLY BECAUSE YOUR REPUBLIC GAVE THEM THAT OPPORTUNITY WHICH WAS DENIED THEM IN THEIR HOME, BUT, STILL FURTHER, BECAUSE WHEN THEY HAVE ONCE ABSORBED THIS SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY THEY WILL BE ABLE TO FOSTER A SIMILAR MENTAL INFLUENCE IN THE MOTHERLAND, WHICH WILL EVENTUALLY MAKE OUT OF HUNGARY A LITTLE AMERICA IN EASTERN EUROPE, WITH THE SAME ATTRACTIVE POWER, THOUGH IN A SMALLER SCALE, THAT THE UNITED STATES NOW EXERCISES ON THE ENTIRE WORLD.

Poetry For Today

WHO?

"Who is he?" The questioner heard it repeated
With burstings of laughter, exultant and strong;
And, stammering, burning with shame, he retreated
And sought to be lost in the boisterous throng.
"Know him? He's the brainiest in the procession
Of men who are filling the vision today."
What wonder the ignorant, making confession,
From ridicule riant slunk quickly away.

"Who was he?" How cruel the question, years after—
Not cruel to ignorance, but to the clay.
The questioner knew all his fellows knew. Laughter
Nor ridicule drove him, shame-featured, away,
And into the mind of the faithful inquirer
There came a soul-sickening, hope-crushing thought:
How short-lived the hero and hero's admirer!
What's greatness that comes in a decade to naught!

"A NO. 1," FAMOUS HOBO, MARRIED

Romance Halts Roaming of Best Known Tramp.

HIS REAL NAME A SECRET.

Thirty Years' Tramping Around the World at Total Expense of $7.61 Railroad Fares—Learned Four Languages. Now Prominent Citizen of Erie, Pa., Where He Settled Down.

Erie, Pa.—"A No. 1," the "champion hobo" of the world, has settled down and married. The wanderer who made his home from Suez to Sitka has crammed himself up in a six room apartment. The tramp who has been sleeping in box cars for full thirty years now has a mahogany bed.

For a third of a century he drifted aimlessly from Chile to Alaska. He "rode the rods" for more than half a million miles. He saw more scenery at less overhead cost per look than any man living. In thirty years he paid only $7.61 railroad fare. But he never smokes, drinks or gambles. His only great passion was the wanderlust. And now this hobo has forsaken the road, fallen in love and married.

One night in February, 1911, a freight train chugged into the yards at Erie, Pa. The night was cold and a stinging sleet was falling. "A No. 1" was hidden away in one of the box cars dozing. The car inspector routed him out and found that he was half frozen. He took him to his shanty and shared his midnight lunch with him. The remainder of the night "A No. 1" spent sleeping on a bunk covered with black cushions in the glare of a red hot stove. It was an unusual act of kindness for a hobo to receive. "A No. 1" vowed that he would never forget it.

Last November "A No. 1" visited Erie again, and this time he brought a present for his true friend, the car inspector. He was invited to call at the inspector's house. He accepted the invitation. Then he met the inspector's daughter, Miss Mary Abigail Trohoski, a high school graduate, twenty years of age and a finished musician.

In that one night Cupid accomplished for the roamer what "A No. 1" had been trying to do for himself for a quarter of a century.

Love was stronger than wanderlust, and they were engaged. The announcement caused consternation among the ladies of Erie. They whispered about the outrage of pretty Miss Trohoski throwing herself away on a hobo. Some of her friends came to her with tears in their voices and pleaded with her to reconsider it. All in vain. Miss Trohoski replied that hers was not the common variety of hobo. She was right. He is the most remarkable roamer in trampdom.

"A No. 1's" history is too well known to require any detailed comment. He ran away from home when he was eleven years of age and became a yeggman kid. A yeggman tramp doesn't beg; he robs; he would blackmail a man for a meal. He always has a kid to travel with him, for the child can stand outside while he is cracking a safe and give him the signal when a "copper" approaches. Besides, the kid, with the appeal that his tender years makes, can get food for both by begging for it, while a regular old tramp would be more likely to get jail.

The yeggman that this hobo traveled with thirty years ago called him "A No. 1" kid. The boy got his "monicker" from this; tramps never have real names. They are called "Alkali Ike" or "Box Car Bennie" or the like. Ask "A No. 1" his real name, and he will reply, "Sh—sh—just 'A No. 1'."

He has a picture of himself and Jack London taken during their companionship on the road in 1894. "A No. 1" also possesses autographed cards from Thomas A. Edison, Luther Burbank and William H. Taft. Another card has this terse note: "I know 'A No. 1' to be O. K. Theodore Roosevelt."

"A No. 1" has prevented twenty railroad wrecks in as many years. He has letters from three different railroad presidents thanking him for his saving of property and life.

"A No. 1" won a $1,000 wager once by "deadbeating" his way from New York to San Francisco in eleven days and six hours. With $750 of this he bought a tomb at Cambridge Springs, Pa., and inscribed this epitaph on it:

"A No. 1"
The Rambler
At Rest at Last.

The remaining $250 he spent in rescuing boys from the hard life that has held him in its grip for so many years.

BILL REFERRED TO TRADE BODIES

Ask 543 Commercial Organizations For Views on Measure.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE.

Initiated by Chamber of Commerce of United States on Report of a Special Committee—Voting to Be For or Against Seven Recommendations. Result to Be Made Public.

Washington. — A referendum relative to the proposed interstate trade commission bill recently reported into the house of representatives by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce was initiated by the chamber of commerce of the United States of America. It goes to the 543 commercial organizations in forty-seven states, and the votes of these organizations, when recorded, will be made public.

The referendum is based on the report of a special committee composed of two business men. The committee presents its recommendations in such form that the membership of each organization is enabled to express its opinions by voting for or against the various proposals.

The seven definite recommendations to be supported or rejected are:

That there be created an interstate trade commission of at least five members, appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, not more than a mere majority of whom shall be of the same political party.

That jurisdiction of the commission in conducting investigation extend to all corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce except such as are amenable to the interstate commerce commission. (It has not been judicially determined whether or not banks are engaged in interstate commerce, but it is not understood to be the purpose of the bill creating an interstate trade commission to include banks among the corporations placed within the jurisdiction of the commission.)

That the commission should not now be given authority to advise applicants concerning the legality of proposed contracts, combinations, etc., under the Sherman act. That the annual reports of corporations, if required, should at the outset be confined to those of the larger corporations (say, to those having capital resources of $5,000,000 or more or to those having an annual income of $250,000) and to such other classes of corporations as the commission may officially determine.

That in the annual reports made to the commission corporations ought not to be required to disclose trade processes, shop costs, classification of sales and profits among particular articles, names of customers or other like private information.

That the publication of facts obtained by the commission be confined to such as are to the public interest.

That congress should direct the commission to investigate and report to congress at the earliest practicable date on the advisability of amending the Sherman act to allow a greater degree of co-operation in the conduct and for the protection of the foreign trade.

In suggesting that the membership of the commission should be composed of five members rather than three as proposed in the present house bill, the committee argues that since a large proportion of interstate business of importance is now transacted by corporations the duties of the commission will be so important that so small a membership as three is inadequate. The committee also concludes that a commission may earn a greater degree of popular confidence for nonpartisanship and impartiality than a departmental official can hope to attain. The committee also is convinced that the larger commission would provide for different points of view and opportunity for the inclusion of business experience.

The committee believes that there should be no discrimination as to the kinds of corporations with which the commission deals, since such a limitation might develop a suspicion of favoritism. It says, "Neither size nor any other arbitrary standard of classification is a sure criterion of lawfulness or unlawfulness under the anti-trust acts or under any other laws." The committee is convinced that the general jurisdiction of the commission should not extend to persons and partnerships, giving this reason:

"As a matter of business judgment, individuals and partnerships as such will not engage in interstate or foreign trade on a scale sufficiently large as to have the potentiality of effecting a restraint of trade or creating a monopoly. Before their business assumes a character or a volume that creates possibilities of illegality under the anti-trust acts they are under a practical necessity of adopting the corporate form with its limited liability and other advantages."

ORVILLE STOOKEY JAILED STEALS MOTHER'S HORSE

Youth Who Has Been Guilty of Many Crimes Now Faces Grand Jury on Charge of Horse Stealing.

ARRESTED IN GREENFIELD AFTER TRADING HORSES

Stole Horse From Barn in This City Saturday Night and Is Trained to Greenfield Where Dramatic Arrest Is Made—Bond Is Fixed at $300—Had Eluded the Police Who Were Searching For Him on Another Charge.

Orville Stookey is still trying to break into the penitentiary, or Mansfield reformatory, and he is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of stealing a horse from his mother, Mrs. Alvin Stookey.

Stookey is the young man for whom the police have been searching for a week or ten days, on a charge of stealing his father's buggy harness and a hat and bracelet from his sister. Previous to that he had stolen a carpet from his home. He has been back from the work house only a short time after serving a term for stealing a robe from C. A. Kelley a few months ago.

Saturday evening Stookey went to the barn where his mother's horse was kept, and stole the animal. The theft was reported to the police and Sheriff Nelson, with the result that Mayor Coffey, Chief Moore and Sheriff Nelson spent a good part of Sunday trying to locate young Stookey and place him under arrest.

Mayor Coffey, Chief Moore and Officer Baughn traced the youth toward Greenfield, and spent several hours trying to locate him in the Rock Mills neighborhood, but failed and returned to this city.

Chief Moore, Sheriff Nelson and Officer Baughn again took up the search Sunday afternoon, and arrived in Greenfield late Sunday evening, and as they were passing through the main part of Greenfield they suddenly spied young Stookey driving toward them. He had two girls in the rig with him.

Chief Moore leaped from the auto and before Stookey realized what was happening he was under arrest, much to the surprise of himself and the two girls, Esta and Alma Delph, who were with him.

It was soon discovered that Stookey had traded horses with a man named Weller, receiving $23 in money. Weller was located and was glad to make another change. Stookey had the $23 in his pocket when arrested. The officers returned to this city with Stookey, and lodged him in the county jail, where he remained until Monday morning when he was taken before Mayor Coffey, charged with stealing a horse valued at $75. He did not deny the charge, as the evidence against him was overwhelming.

Mayor Coffey bound him over to the grand jury under $300, and remanded him back to the county jail.

In all probability a special session of the grand jury will again be held before October, and Stookey's case will come before the jury at that time.

For several years Stookey has been going from bad to worse, and during the past few months his crimes have been increasing in number and gravity.

LOCAL HORSES MAY GO TO MEXICO

Mr. Charles Allen, the widely known horseman of this city, is now purchasing artillery horses for the United States government, and now has about 20 head of choice animals suitable for artillery service, and is purchasing every desirable horse available where the price is not exorbitant.

A telegram just received from Capt. W. W. Whiteside, who was in this county purchasing army remounts a short time ago, states that he will be in this city again the last week in May.

In the meantime Mr. Allen has full authority to purchase an unlimited number of horses for army service, and which may soon be used in Mexico.

The artillery horses are somewhat larger than the remounts, and must be sound and weigh not less than 1150 to 1200 pounds.

Artillery horses are scarce at the present time, although it is thought there are a large number on Fayette county farms.

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG WOMAN

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Murray, Mrs. T. W. Marchant and Miss Del Lanum motored to Columbus Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Murray's niece, Miss Virginia Logan, who died Saturday morning at Grant hospital, her death following an operation Friday.

Miss Logan had a number of relatives and friends in this city, who will learn with much regret of her untimely death at twenty-six years of age.

She made her home with her brother, Mr. James Logan, in Columbus. Mr. Murray went to Columbus Saturday to make the arrangements for the funeral which was held Monday afternoon at the Emanuel church on Ogden avenue.

AUTOISTS MUST OBSERVE RULES

Unless autoists strictly observe the rules for entering the Washington cemetery with machines, the gates may once more be closed against them. This is announced by the management of the cemetery as a result of failure to observe the rules laid out for automobiles. Most drivers keep to the drives indicated, but a few have branched off upon other drives with the result that if persisted in, it will be necessary to close the cemetery against the machines.

Two stops are allowed in the cemetery—one at the mound and the other at the vault. The use of certain drives has been greatly appreciated by most autoists.

CASE TO BE TAKEN TO PROBATE COURT

At a session of the County Commissioners, which occupied much of Saturday, Laura B. Jones, J. M. Willis and E. W. Hopkins filed notice of their intention to appeal to the Probate court the condemnation proceedings recently instituted against 4.17 acres of ground on the estate of Laura B. Jones.

The condemnation proceedings were instituted to obtain gravel and sand for road building.

AFTER COUGHING TWO YEARS.

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McGee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

RICHARD OLNEY, AGED 78 DECLINES TO HEAD THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

Richard Olney, who recently declined to accept the appointment as governor of the new federal reserve board, is seventy-eight years old. He was born in Oxford, Mass., and received the degree of A. M. from Brown university in 1856, the degree of LL. B. from Harvard in 1858 and LL. D. from Harvard and Brown in 1893 and Yale in 1901. He was admitted to the bar in 1859, and his practice has since centered in Boston. He was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1874 and attorney general of the United States from 1893 to 1895 in President Cleveland's administration. He then became secretary of state and continued in the office until March 4, 1897.

The most notable incident of Mr. Olney's service as secretary of state was the final settlement of the British controversy over the Venezuelan boundary.

TRAIN RIDERS CLEAN HOUSE

Quartette of Young Men Are Given Choice of Working About Court House or Going to Works, and Lose No Time in Choosing House Cleaning.

"Would you rather clean house or go to the works, boys?"

This was the question Probate Judge Allen asked four young men who faced him on charges of train riding.

"We'll do the cleaning, every time!" chirped the quartette of train riders.

The four men: E. O. Everatt, Newark; Joe Shultz, Pittsburg; Fred Dunlap, Newark and James Wheeler, Newark, were placed in the cooler Saturday night by Detective Kennedy.

When arraigned before Judge Allen they expressed a willingness to work, and were accordingly set at the work of cleaning up the various offices at the court house, dusting the hundreds of record books and files, and cleaning walls.

The four went at their work with a willingness that was pleasing to the court house attaches.

The men were informed that one day's work was all that would be required, and that they could then purchase tickets for Columbus and hit the road once more.

18 MOUNTAIN LIONS BAGGED.

Success of Hunt Conducted in the Yellowstone Park.

Gardiner, Mont.—One of the most unique hunts in history and one that is being conducted on a large scale is the mountain lion drive in the Yellowstone National park. Within fifteen days eighteen lions were bagged, including the largest specimen ever seen in this region. The hunt is going on by permission of the government.

The largest lion was jumped at a point near Gardiner and led the hunters and dogs a chase of forty-five miles before it was killed near the starting point.

The method pursued in hunting the lions is to trail a beast to a tree or some spot where he seeks safety after desperately trying to outwit the pack of dogs chasing him. The lion then is shot.

DELIVERS POSTAL TO DOG.

Carrier Calls "Tige" to Every One Until Right Tail Wags.

Hammond, Ind.—A postal card came from Hot Springs, Ark., directed to "Tige, Hammond, Ind." Postal authorities pondered over it long. It read: "Darling Tige, are you a good dog?" and was signed "Mother."

Julius Kosanke, a mail carrier, agreed to deliver it. He called "Tige" at dogs all day and was chased by them. He at last came to a house where a bow legged, swaybacked bull pup came out to meet him.

The dog growled savagely, and Kosanke said, "Hello, Tige!" and the dog wagged his stubby tail. The carrier asked the woman of the house whether her dog's name was Tige.

"It is. Have you a letter from his mother?" she asked Kosanke, and then continued: "Well, here is a letter to his mother; please mail it."

SPECIAL SERVICE EAST END CHAPEL

Beautiful in its simplicity was the Mother's Day service at the East End Chapel last evening. Quite a crowd was present to render loving tribute to the departed, as well as the living mothers. As Rev. Henness, in his able manner, portrayed the different stages of a mother's life, from infancy to the close of life, memories wafted back to the scenes and recollections of childhood, many moistened eyes showed the sympathy and love abiding in every heart, and there was the general wish to pay a tribute to the memory of mother. The song, "If You Love Your Mother Meet Her in the Skies", by Mrs. Nina Cripps, Miss Estella Ford, Miss Ella Baber, accompanied by Dwight Ireland at the piano, was very beautiful and appropriate. The church was decorated with spring's choicest flowers, which seemed to shed their beauty and perfume as a loving tribute in memory of Mother's Day, and may each mother realize the importance of her duty as a mother, for a partnership with God is motherhood. What strength, what purity, what self-control, what love, what wisdom should belong to her who helps God fashion an immortal soul.

POLICE ARREST THREE SCRAPPERS

Receiving a quiet tip that a battle royal, with three participants, was in progress back of the postoffice, the police hurried to the scene Monday morning and arrested Wiley Arnott, Pete Betts and Earl Smith on charges of disorderly conduct.

The trio was escorted to the Mayor's office where each entered a plea of guilty and Arnott and Betts were fined $1 and the costs, while Smith, who became disrespectful toward the court was given $5 and the costs and ordered committed to the workhouse until paid. He agreed to pay, and

MRS. JESS ROWE ANSWERS DEATH CALL

Mrs. Addie J. Rowe, wife of Mr. Jess Rowe, died Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Rowe home near Plano, aged 31 years. Mrs. Rowe has been in poor health for some time and was in the Fayette hospital for special treatment in the vain hope of recovering her health. Since returning home several weeks ago, she has been going down rapidly.

Her death will be learned with much sorrow by many relatives and friends.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock (Standard time) at Maple Grove church, on the White pike. Burial in the New Holland cemetery.

Yes, sir, I'm gonna bring or send my "TWINS" to see you soon. You better get acquainted.

FIRST OF SERIES DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

To a very large and interested audience Rev. W. B. Gage, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered the first of a series of "May Messages" Sunday night. In commemoration of the day the first message had as its theme "The Glory of Motherhood," and was a sermon of eloquence and beauty. At the close Mrs. Werter Shoop sang a "Lullaby" most beautifully and a fine male quartet, Dr. L. P. Howell, Messrs. Bowman, Kibler and Barney.

At the morning service Mrs. Wm. Vail (nee Louise Hershey) whose lovely contralto was formerly an asset of the Presbyterian choir, favored the audience with a solo.

"MOTHER'S DAY" IN CITY CHURCHES

Mother's Day was observed generally in the churches of Washington Sunday.

Pastors delivered sermons, beautiful in their appreciation of the significance of the day; special music was rendered and spring blossoms filled the churches with fragrance, while hundreds of carnations were worn "in honor of mother". All of the churches held large audiences at both morning and evening services.

WILSON NAMES PEACE ENVOYS

Justice Lamar and Frederick Lehman to Serve.

WILL CONFER WITH MEDIATORS

Apprehension Felt in Diplomatic Circles as to the Fate of Foreigners in Mexico City in Case a Sudden Revolt Should Overthrow Huerta. Activity in the War and Navy Departments.

Washington, May 11.—President Wilson Sunday received at the White House the Brazilian ambassador, Mr. Da Gama, ranking member of the South American mediators who are seeking to compose the Mexican trouble, and his led to the belief that developments of the past 24 hours involved something more than mere discussions of preliminaries for the coming conference at Niagara Falls. It was a plain, however, after the White House conference, that nothing had occurred which would act as an obstacle to the continued progress of the negotiations.

Associate Justice Joseph P. Lamar of the United States supreme court and Frederick W. Lehman of St. Louis, former solicitor general, will be the representatives of the United States to confer with the mediators. This became known from an authoritative source. Justice Lamar had a long talk with the president, and later he and Mr. Lehman conferred.

The war and navy departments showed more than their wonted activity, but no orders of a notable character were issued from either branch. Secretary Garrison and Major General Wotherspoon, chief of staff, were at their desks for several hours, conferring over the precautionary military movements now being matured. Except to say that no additional orders had been sent for troop movements, the officials were silent on their deliberations. Arrangements to secure transports continue. The steamer Chippewa of the Clyde line, at New York, was substituted for the Dorchester of the Merchants and Miners' line, which was found unsuitable.

Much apprehension is felt in diplomatic quarters as to the fate of foreigners at Mexico City in case a sudden revolt should overthrow Huerta.

REVIEW BOARDS TO BE NON-PARTISAN

Columbus, O., May 11.—In the composition of the boards of complaint, the reviewing bodies provided under the Warnes tax law to hear objections of taxpayers to assessments by the district assessors, the state is promised a political novelty. It has been decided by the state tax commission to introduce an innovation and in many of the counties the boards will be made up of one member of each party, thus making them nonpartisan in the full sense of the term.

BECK MAKES A WILD RIDE

Mansfield, O., May 11.—Struck by a fast passenger train while driving home, Albert J. Beck, 21, a farmer from near Perrysville, was caught on the pilot of the engine with the seat of his buggy and carried 14 miles to Mansfield. The horse was instantly killed and the buggy smashed to kindlingwood, but Beck escaped with only a slight cut on his upper lip.

WILSON'S TRIBUTE

Service Held Over Remains of Heroes Killed at Vera Cruz.

New York, May 11.—President Wilson arrived in this city this morning and attended the funeral services in the navy yard over the remains of the American marines who were killed at Vera Cruz.

The president was entertained at lunch in the yard by Capt. Gelves, the commandant, who also had Secretary Daniels as his guest. The presidential party left for Washington on the Congressional Limited in the afternoon.

The feature of the memorial exercises was President Wilson's address, in which tribute was paid to the soldier dead. A salute also was fired.

The bodies of the dead heroes were brought ashore shortly before 8 o'clock today and placed upon caissons in the procession, which moved up Broadway to City hall for a brief ceremony there, and on across the Manhattan bridge to the navy yard for the main services.

Secretary Daniels said: "We come here to show our respect and admiration for the men who gave their lives for their nation at Vera Cruz. By coming here we hope to show our appreciation of the fine civic spirit shown by the people of New York and of the admirable preparations made for these memorial services."

The cruiser Montana arrived Sunday with 17 of the coffined dead, the bodies being swathed in the stars and stripes. The president's yacht Mayflower, with Secretary of the Navy Daniels on board, and the battleship Wyoming escorted the Montana into the harbor here. Black masses of people and long lines of automobiles lined the shore front.

MERCHANT SUICIDES

Mansfield, O., May 11.—Abraham C. Lantz, 44, prominent business man, placed the muzzle of a double-barreled shotgun to his eyes and, pulling both triggers with his feet, blew off the top of his head, in the attic of his home here. Mr. Lantz had been despondent over financial difficulties in which he had become involved.

UNWORKED INDIAN MOUNDS ARE FOUND

Six Groups With No Previous Record Located In Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis.—Rich Indian finds have been made recently in three counties of northern Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin Archaeological society is publishing an account of the explorations conducted by two of its members, J. P. Schumacher of Green Bay and W. A. Titus of Fond du Lac, in Portage, Marathon and Lincoln counties recently.

A study was made by these men, both of whom are experienced investigators, of the aboriginal remains still existing about Wausau, Merrill, Tomahawk, Heafoord and other places along the upper Wisconsin river.

Near Bradley and Heafoord surveys were made of six distinct groups of Indian earthworks of which there had been no previous state record. The largest of these consisted of thirty-three conical and oval mounds. An emblematic mound in one of the groups is the only one of its class as yet located in northern Wisconsin.

It is more than sixty miles north of the northernmost limit of the effigy mound territory. At this place there also exists a fine plot of old Indian garden beds.

In Portage county the work of the investigators was chiefly confined to the regions about Lakes Emily and Onneland, near each of which important discoveries were made.

B. & L. ESCAPE INCOME TAXES

Cincinnati, O., May 11.—That building and loan associations under the laws of Ohio, notwithstanding their power to borrow from or loan money to nonmembers, are "organized and operated exclusively for the mutual benefit of their members," within the meaning of the federal corporation income tax law and come strictly within the proviso giving them exemption from the payment of a federal tax upon their incomes, is held by United States District Judge Hollister. He so ruled in an opinion handed down in the cases of the Central Building, Loan and Savings company of Columbus against Willis G. Bowland as collector of internal revenue for the Eleventh Ohio district, and the Bellefontaine Building and Loan company against General William V. McMaken as collector of internal revenue for the Tenth Ohio internal revenue district.

KNOX AT ISSUE WITH EXECUTIVE

Gives Views of Taft Administration on Free Tolls.

ATTACKS THE REPEAL MEASURE

Bill Involves the Surrender of American Sovereignty Over the Panama Canal, According to the Former Secretary of State—Says It Proposes to Give to Great Britain More Than She Ever Asked.

Washington, May 11.—The Taft administration's views on the repudiation by President Wilson of the free tolls clause in the Panama canal act are set forth for the first time. Philander C. Knox, secretary of state under President Taft, issued a statement which is certain to have a considerable influence in the contest now pending in the senate. It was Mr. Knox who officially opposed the British contentions when their protest was first filed.

Ex-Secretary Knox maintains that the repeal of the free tolls bill involves a surrender of American sovereignty over the canal. He insists that the free tolls legislation does not violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. He declared further that President Wilson is now proposing to give Great Britain more than she ever asked. Mr. Knox asserts, in fact, that in the negotiations under the Taft administration Great Britain complained merely that her rights under the treaty would be violated if the exemption was not restricted to bona fide coastwise trade and if the tolls were not computed upon the basis of all ships using the canal.

The United States met the objections and, in Mr. Knox's opinion, that action "completely disposed of the British complaint." Yet President Wilson, he insists, now proposes action by congress which not only goes beyond anything ever asked by Great Britain, but the rights flowing from sovereignty and absolute ownership of the canal.

The statement frequently has been made that Mr. Knox and President Taft resented Senator Root's speech against free tolls at a time when they practically disposed of the controversy with Great Britain. In his statement Mr. Knox stands on opposite grounds to that occupied by former Secretary of State Root.

Good News for You! Pain Disappears!

Have You Heard About "The Road to Quick Relief"?—Better Get Acquainted With Speedway.

There's more joy for you in one bottle of Speedway than in a whole year of spring days. For Speedway does take the aches and pains away. Speedway is for those tired, stiff joints—for bruises and sprains—for rheumatic limbs that make you wince every time you move.

Linger up with Speedway! Feel frisky and fine by simply applying this magic balm. It feels good when you use it—you feel like a new person afterward.

Putting it on full strength—rubbing gently until the skin glows—is just the thing. For Speedway cannot burn or blister the skin. It's as soothing and pleasant as toilet water. It cannot stain the flesh or the daintiest fabric, bearing a kind and gentle remedy—and just as sure as it is agreeable.

Suppose you go—the first minute you get the chance to Blackmer & Tanquary, or Christopher's or Baldwin's and buy a bottle of Speedway. Better get the large size, and use it faithfully—then you will absolutely receive the results promised or the druggist will return your money.

Speedway was discovered and successfully used for years by a good old Scotch physician. Now it is given to the world—ready to prove your "road to quick relief." Try it now. adv

MAUSOLEUM WORK PROGRESSES SLOWLY

Work on the mausoleum under course of erection in the Washington cemetery is moving forward slowly, and at the present time the walls of the structure have reached a height of several feet, while part of the crypts have been made, and the forms have been laid for pouring more of the crypts within a short time.

The mausoleum will, in all probability, be completed during the coming summer. It is being constructed of cement and stone.

RUMMAGE SALE NETS GRATIFYING SUM

The Episcopal ladies of St. Andrew's Mission netted over $35 at their rummage sale in the Hunt building on Main street, Saturday afternoon.

The proceeds of the sale were very gratifying.

CASE DISMISSED

The court proceedings against the late Leo Brandon were dismissed Monday morning.

STREET RACING VERY DANGEROUS

Fast driving or racing on the streets at night must be discontinued or the police will arrest the guilty parties under the ordinance prohibiting such offenses.

The use of the streets by drivers of horses for racing, particularly on Sunday nights, has been increasing within the past few weeks, and a number of serious accidents have nearly resulted where the hilarious drivers have dashed recklessly down the streets whipping their horses and nearly driving them over pedestrians or colliding with other rigs.

Complaint has been made to the authorities and they are determined to put a stop to the nuisance at once.

STREET OILING BEGINS TODAY

The first street oiling of the season took place Monday morning, when North street, from Court to Market was given a good coating of oil.

Other of the principal streets will be oiled without delay, and are being prepared for the reception of oil.

ADDRESSES SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

O'SHAUGHNESSY TO SEE WILSON

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—President Wilson, it was announced today, will receive former Charge d'affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy tomorrow.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy has conferred with Secretary Bryan several times since his arrival in Washington last week. He also talked with Secretary Tumulty, but the President has not found earlier opportunity to see him.

TAKING ANOTHER CRACK AT JUDGE

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 11.—A resolution directing the house judiciary committee to investigate the conduct of Judge Alston G. Dayton, of the Northern District of West Virginia, was introduced in the House today by Representative Neely, of West Virginia.

The resolution sites charges made in a petition by more than 9,000 West Virginia citizens urging action. The charges relate to the conduct of Judge Dayton in labor cases.

THIRD ENVOY YET UNNAMED

Washington, D. C., May 11.—Associate Justice Lamar of the United States Supreme Court and Frederick W. Lehman, of St. Louis, former solicitor-general, have been selected by President Wilson to represent his views before the South American mediators in the Mexican mediation negotiations.

Secretary Bryan made this official announcement today. Whether a third man will be appointed, Mr. Bryan declined to say.

Bedridden Twelve Years.

Akron, O.—Jacob Herr, seventy-five, who had not been out of his bed in twelve years, is dead. Twenty-five years ago he was stricken with paralysis and twelve years ago his condition became such that he was unable to leave his bed. In the last ten years he had prayed silently for death to relieve him.

WARNER SUICIDE

By Associated Press.

Harbin, Manchuria, May 11.—Southard P. Warner, 33, United States Consul at Harbin, committed suicide today in a hospital here, where he was undergoing treatment.

Mr. Warner had held the appointment since August 1912, but had been in the American Consular service since 1904.

KEEP MINES CLOSED 'TILL PEACE COMES

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 11.—No mines will be permitted to re-open in the Colorado strike district for the present, according to a statement announced by Secretary Garrison today.

He denied that orders had been issued forbidding the importation of strike-breakers, but explained that while the situation remained threatening, the mines not already running would probably be kept closed until, in his judgment their opening would not cause further trouble.

"It makes no difference whether strike breakers are imported or whether the labor is on the grounds," said Mr. Garrison, "the question is whether their employment would start trouble".

28 YEARS TO ACCEPT DIVORCE

When Husband Returns Wife Pays Cost and Gets Decree.

Towanda, Pa.—Feeble with the weight of years, yet determined in manner, Mrs. Hanna Harrison entered the courthouse and demanded the papers in a divorce granted her twenty-eight years ago. Prothonotary Estell spent two hours searching the records and finally found that back in the eighties Mrs. Harrison had been granted a divorce from James Harrison on the grounds of desertion. The decree was to become effective when Mrs. Harrison paid the costs of the case. The conditions were explained to the aged woman, and she said she knew all about it and was ready to pay the costs as required.

Then she explained that about the time the divorce was applied for she heard her husband was dead, and she decided that a divorce was not necessary. A few days ago he returned after an absence of over thirty years, and she decided to lift the decree. She accordingly paid the costs and was given the papers, which restores to her her maiden name.

"I put him out of my life forever when I applied for that divorce, and now I intend to keep him out," said the woman as she placed the court's decree in her hand bag and left the courthouse.

FILIPINOS USE LESS OPIUM.

Habit Checked, Consumption Reduced, Says Government Report.

Washington.—Consumption of opium among the Filipinos has been completely checked, if not entirely eradicated, says a report to Brigadier General McIntyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, from the collector of internal revenue in the Philippines. He says that as a result of laws on the subject "the use of opium is now confined to a comparatively small number of confirmed users of the drug, practically all of whom are Chinese, who cannot give up the vice and who will go to any length to obtain it."

While there are in many parts of the islands scattering instances where Filipinos still indulge in the use of opium, it is reported that less than 5 per cent of the former Filipino users, who had numbered 40,000 in 1906, were still victims of the vice in 1911 and that since then conditions in Manila have greatly improved. Conditions in the provinces are said to be fairly satisfactory.

"It is perhaps too much," the report says, "to suspect that the opium evil will ever be absolutely suppressed in the Philippine Islands. It may be said, however, that almost without exception Chinese users of opium in any of its forms are today using a much smaller amount than that used by the same persons a few years ago. This is shown by the comparative ease with which Chinese users sent to the hospital today are cured. The only hope of approximating total suppression lies in making indulgence in the habit so difficult that the younger generation will not acquire it, and in this direction the progress made has certainly been most satisfactory."

Over Fifteen Thousand Factories in Ohio

Do you know what they are all making? Did you know that Ohio leads the country in the manufacture of carriages and wagons, of pottery and clay products, and a few other things? That it is second in automobiles?

What do you know about your state, in the lines of practical knowledge that every resident ought to know? It is impossible to remember much of the data that you read, of course, and you need your memory for things of immediate use in the task of earning your daily bread. Knowing where to find information and other matters, and having the means at your hand, is the important thing. That is what our OHIO ALMANAC has done for you. Men who know thoroughly the various departments of the history Ohio is making every day, have gathered the important facts together for you and put them into a book that is as concise as it is complete. The splendid index removes all possibility of tedium and delay in finding these facts.

And we offer this Handbook to you for 25c at our office, or by mail at 30c, postpaid.
